

New JC Campus Will Rise on Stoneman Site

Members of the governing board of the Contra Costa Junior College District, who Monday night voted to acquire 110 acres of former Camp Stoneman land for establishment of a third campus, predict an initial enrollment of a 1000 students.

The new campus will represent an investment of $10 million in buildings and equipment when completed. Many buildings will be duplicates of those already built at DVC and CCC, saving taxpayers on architects fees.

The action by the board culminated four years of negotiation.

District superintendent, Drummond J. McCunn was authorized to execute the necessary papers to acquire the land from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

THE SITE, located 200 yards south of the Pittsburg-Antioch Freeway near the Loveridge Road interchange, is midway between Pittsburg and Antioch. It is within the city limits of Pittsburg, with its easterly boundary contiguous to the city limits of Antioch.

Under the agreement with the government, the college has eight years in which to develop the campus and open it to actual student use.

On the basis of an appraisal by federal agencies placing a value of $110,000 on the property, the college will pay 5 per cent of this value, or $5500 a year, plus interest on the unpaid balance, for the land.

At such a time as the campus is opened to students all further payments and interest charges will be cancelled. If the campus is not opened within eight years all payments will be declared forfeit and the land will go back to the government.

THE DISTRICT could have obtained the site free of cost were it able to start construction within 18 months, but McCunn said this was not possible.

The present time schedule, he said, calls for two years of planning, with construction to start within three years, and occupancy in four.

"We hope to see this new college opened within four years as a full-fledged institution presenting a balanced academic, vocational, technical program geared to the needs of the students and the communities it serves," McCunn said.

The primary service area of the college will be Pittsburg, Antioch and Liberty Unified High School districts, and the Clayton Valley and Marsh Creek areas. McCunn pointed out, however, that the governing board has never "zoned" the district's colleges and that students may attend any institution they wish.

FOR EXAMPLE, approximately 100 students living within the normal service area of Diablo Valley College at Concord are attending Contra Costa College in San Pablo, primarily because of a variance in course offerings.

McCunn described the Pittsburg-Antioch site as the "most inexpensive to develop than any acquired by any junior college district in California" because of topography requiring very little grading, and the availability of sewers, storm drains, access roads, water, and electricity already installed by the military.

"Because of this the college district stands to save at least a half-million dollars in site development costs," the superintendent declared.

Third campus plans have been in the background since the district formation in 1948, but it was not until 1957 that the idea received emphasis through a study made by an Antioch Chamber of Commerce college survey committee.

THE STUDY reinforced arguments as to need and feasibility as indicated by previous district surveys, but the real breakthrough came when Camp Stoneman was deactivated and the 1859 acre installation put up for sale.

The college district, in 1958, was one of the first to apply for a school site.

Camp Stoneman, built in 1942 at a cost of $18,410,936, was used as a staging area to process more than 2,000,000 men sent overseas during World War II and the Korean conflict.

Association Acts On Park Bond

The board of directors of the Orinda Association unanimously voted to endorse the County Park Bond Issue which will appear on the June 5 ballot. William Penn Mott Jr., manager of the east bay regional park district, explained the proposed bond at the association board meeting Monday. It convened at the Orinda School at 8 p.m.

Mott appeared as a resident of the area, not in an official capacity. Speaking of the $7,500,000 bond issue, Mott said that $5,000,000 would be used for land acquisition and $2,500,000 for development of park sites. "We should've done this a long time ago," Mott said. "Fortunately, we can still bail ourselves out."

PRESIDENT Eric Nielsen announced that A. L. Peterson, 6 Sadrine Court, Orinda, would be named immediately to the board of directors. He will fill Mike Ball's vacancy. Possibly Peterson will head an association tax study group.

The annual membership drive will begin two weeks prior to the annual meeting, Paul Fanning, membership chairman, announced. The meeting will be April 23 at the Orinda School auditorium.

Bruce Hoffe, chairman of the annual meeting committee, said that a panel will discuss the possible uses of the association's land. The 10 acres are located by the southwest corner of the freeway and Dam Road.

ACCORDING to Hoffe, the panel would include an architect, a park director, a financial advisor and a visionary. He requested that director Harry Fledderman act as moderator.

Ways of getting Orindans interested in the future of the association's land were discussed. "What we need are members with zeal, manpower, vision and talent," said Nielsen. The "imminency and urgency" of coming to some decision about the property, and its great community potential, were delved into.

Jack Cutter suggested having a Boy Scout camporee on the land. "No one will get enthused about something they know nothing about," he said.

IN ORDER to promote awareness of the land, four directors will put a sign on it tomorrow. Directors Hoffe, Fledderman, Nielsen and Cutter will identify the land by posting an "Orinda Association Land" sign.

The association will be represented at the hearing of the G&L Corporation at Martinez Tuesday night, according to Nielsen. Their position is one of concern, and not opposition, he said.

Dog Poison Case Under Investigation

The Orinda sheriff's office is investigating two new cases of dog poisoning. The cases are similar to an unsolved series of poisonings which occurred here six months ago.

A veterinarian at Dr. Boevers Animal Hospital, 3394 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Lafayette, said all the symptoms of poisoning were found in the dead dog belonging to Roger Bond, 120 Las Vegas Road. It was rushed to the hospital yesterday.

Raymond Dondoro, 17 Via Las Cruces, dean of instruction at Contra Costa College, San Pablo, said his dog was stricken a short time after being let out Tuesday. The dog died at the office of a veterinarian who said there was a possibility of poisoning.

First Orinda Baby Dies at Seventy-six

The first baby born at the old Orinda Crossroads, Mrs. Esther Gerow Symmons, 76, was buried yesterday. Services were held at MacFarlane-Bryant Chapel in Concord at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Symmons' father, the late Edward S. Gerow, founded a blacksmith shop at the crossroads when it was still known as Bryant's Corners. Mrs. Symmons was born in 1885 in the family home near the smithy.

HER SISTER, Mrs. Albert Allison of Lafayette, and a brother, the late William Gerow, were in the first class of eight pupils at the original Orinda School.

Mrs. Symmons, widowed in 1946, was noted for her knowledge of early Contra Costa history.

SHE AND her family moved to Walnut Creek in 1917. Her home was at 1616 Second Ave. She was a member of Alameda Eastern Star Chapter, Century Shrine No. 100 and the Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill senior citizen clubs.

In addition to her sister and a brother, Bart Gerow, also of Lafayette, Mrs. Symmons is survived by 13 children, 44 grandchildren and 34 great-grandchildren.

Ted Winslow To Run for Assembly

Edward "Ted" Winslow of 789 Duke Circle, Pleasant Hill, has taken out nomination papers for assemblyman of the 10th Assembly District, according to the county registration office.

Winslow, a general insurance agent and current trustee of the Pleasant Hill Park and Recreation District, will run against incumbent Jerome Waldie of Antioch.

Election will coincide with the June 5 primaries.

Nomination papers were also taken out by insurance man Ray Taylor of Pleasant Hill, who will run for Third District supervisor against incumbent Tom Coll of Concord.

Taylor is a former board of supervisors chairman and had 16 years service on the board before losing to Coll in the last election.

Byron Clark of Concord has taken out nomination papers to run for county tax collector, and will oppose Emmett Hitchcock, an employee of the tax collector's office.

Hudelson Promoted Rank Cadet Captain

Cadet Gary L. Hudelson of Orinda has been promoted to the rank of cadet captain in the Air Force ROTC program at the University of Idaho. His new position is "squadron administrative officer. Cadet Hudelson is a junior at the university."

The cadet wing is beginning to prepare for the spring review, a formal drill ceremony which will occur in May.

Judge Will Rule Monday On Retarded Home Order

Judge Homer Patterson will rule Monday on a temporary restraining order in the case of cruelty charges filed against Mrs. Eileen Hanson in her operation of the Stagg Manor School for retarded children at Danville.

The actual trial of Mrs. Hanson on two misdemeanor charges which allege that she beat some of her students will be held on June 6.

Her attorney, Thomas McBride, obtained the temporary restraining order to prevent the Contra Costa County juvenile control officer from interfering in the operation of the home.

The 53-year-old owner of the home on Kelly Lane in Danville has denied the allegations and is free on bail.

IN ADDITION to the misdemeanor charges in superior court, she also faces accusations by the State Department of Mental Health that she beat some of the children with broom handles and leather straps and also that she punished some of them by immersing them in tubs of cold water.

Mrs. Hanson obtained her license two and a half years ago. She now must appear before the state organization within 15 days to seek a hearing in the matter and prevent revocation of her license.

Immediately after Mrs. Hanson's arrest, her attorney filed for the restraining order against Florence Drummond, the county juvenile control officer.

MRS. HANSON charges Mrs. Drummond had been advising parents to take their children out of Stagg Manor.

Attorney McBride claims the charges against his client "have been blown out of all perspective."

The lawyer contended: "Mrs. Hanson should have been given the courtesy of the ordinary principles of American justice—an opportunity to face her accusers before any action was taken."

Mrs. Hanson completely denied the allegations of beating her wards and asserted "they came completely out of the blue."

THE ORIGINAL search warrant and complaint was issued by Judge Betsy Fitzgerald Rahn of the Walnut Creek Municipal Court.

The action listed seven children plus four adults as being residents of Stagg Manor, although it is licensed only for the care of mentally-retarded children.

Lynn, 'Trampas' Schools Praised By Council Head

Terry Haws, chairman of the East Contra Costa County Council for Retarded Children, pointed out yesterday that other schools of the area are complying with all state requirements despite the recent investigation of the Stagg Manor School in Danville.

"Our two Lynn schools are in no way affiliated with the Stagg school," Haws pointed out. "The Lynn Center workshop on Geary Boulevard and the Lynn pre-school classes in Danville have both been given the highest possible ratings."

Haws also noted the "fine work" being done by the Las Trampas school in Lafayette. This home for retarded children is owned by a board of private citizens and provides space for 30 students on a residential basis.

Pollution District

The Bay Area Air Pollution Control District will meet in Oakland Wednesday morning, it was announced.

The meeting will be held at the County Health Building, Fourth and Broadway.

An executive committee opens the meeting at 9 a.m. with the general meeting starting at 10 a.m.

Rezoning of 365 Acres Again Before Planners

G&L Investment Corporation's request to rezone the 365 acres in Sleepy Hollow will be the number one hearing before the Contra Costa County Planning Commission Tuesday night. The open meeting will convene at 8 p.m. at the Hall of Records, Room 210, Main and Court Streets, Martinez. All interested parties should attend.

The land in question is located at the northeastern end of Lombardy Lane. It extends eastward to Happy Valley Road. G & L is seeking to rezone the 365-acre parcel from general agricultural to family residential. They propose to build homes in the $40,000-$60,000 bracket.

PROPOSED LOTS would range from 20,000 to 40,000 square feet.

At the hearing before the planning commission March 6, Robert Kahn, president of the Happy Valley Improvement Association, proposed that the hearing be postponed until April 3.

This would allow residents time to study and comment on the various reports, Kahn stated. The commission unanimously agreed upon the postponement.

At next Tuesday's hearing, Kahn, as well as representatives of the Orinda Association and the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association, are expected to be among those present.

The original public hearing was held January 2, at which time Frank Draeger, engineer representing G & L, said that the building program would extend over an eight to 10-year period. He stated that a new sewer line would be installed, and that school sites would be made available.

A REPORT presented at this meeting from the county flood control district indicated that there was no danger of flooding in the proposed development.

A field trip was taken by members of the county planning staff on January 19.

At a closed meeting on February 6, a decision was postponed until March 6.

Kahn again requested a postponement on behalf of the Happy Valley Improvement Association to allow affected residents

ERIC NIELSEN, president of the Orinda Association, stated that his organization didn't object to the rezoning as such. However, they were concerned as to the serious strain the G & L development would put on road access, flood control, time to consider information that the planning staff has assembled from school districts.

Also, they could consider a circulation study worked out by the county traffic engineer.

Orinda Ass'n Welcomes Three New Members

Three new members were welcomed by letter to the Orinda Association today. They are: Orinda Park Hills Association, Alta Orinda Association and the Orinda Council for Civic Unity. The organizations were sent a letter by Charles Legge, chairman of the Civic Affairs Committee for the association.

All members are subject to the future requirement that they attend one meeting during each calendar year.

The annual membership campaign will get underway April 9 with letters of invitation to all Orindans, according to Paul Fanning, membership chairman for the association. Dues are $2 annually.

Former members re-elected to the association include: Pine Grove Parents Club, Inland Valley Parents Club, Sleepy Hollow Parents Club, Orinda Fire District, Minerinda Association, Orindans, Inc., Rheem Highlands Association, Snug Harbor, Moraga Woodlands, Ranchitos De Moraga, Lincoln Estates, Orinda Estates Association, Orinda Women's Club, Orinda Junior Chamber, Glorieta Parents Club, Orinda School Parents Club, A.A.U.W., Orinda Art Center, Lake Orinda Highlands, Canyon Ranch Association and Encines de Moraga Association.

Also reappointed were the following improvement associations: Lost Valley, Glorieta, Hacienda, Inland Valley, Los Amigos, Monte Vista, Moraga Del Rey, Moraga Meadows, and Oak Springs.

Board Starts Screening

The Moraga School Board went over the 28 names suggested to fill its vacancy Wednesday night. The closed executive session took place after the board's regular meeting, which convened at 7:30 p.m. at the Camino Pablo School, Moraga.

"We are still in the process of sifting," explained Rex A. Collings Jr., clerk of the board. He said that he had sent out 30 letters to representatives in the community for suggestions to replace Thomas Faulconer, who was transferred to southern California. Also, interested persons had been advised through The Sun to submit names to the board.

MEMBERS of the board participating in both the open and executive sessions were Collings, Dr. N. L. Morgenstern,

A. B. Haskell and Robert Amber. Representing the school were Superintendent of the Moraga School District William Knight; Principal of the Camino Pablo School Charles Toll and Principal of Donald L. Rheem Elementary Robert Trask.

Knight reported on the progress of the addition to Camino Pablo School. Designed by Marshall, Leefe and Ehrenkrantz, the new section should be ready for occupancy by February.

Three representatives of the Brunswick Corporation made a presentation for a new folding partition. It is for possible use in the addition.

Knight went over the tentative budget. He said that the district has had a great increase in assessed evaluation and an increase in the number of children. Enrollment is currently 511. However, the percentage in the amount the taxpayer pays is increasing, due to new legislation, to the amount the state pays. In Moraga, the taxpayers pay 62 per cent to the state's 38 per cent.

KNIGHT reviewed the purchase of equipment late last year to stimulate science, math and languages. Under the National Defense Education Act, the district bought $2800 in science equipment. Half of this will be paid by NDEA. He suggested a new expenditure of $2322 be spent under the same program to purchase material aimed at the lower grades. This would include charts and audio-visual aids. The board voted 3-1 in favor of the proposal. There was a 10-minute recess to enable the board and the public to inspect the new equipment.

Through the NDEA, Dr. Stanley Brown of the University of California holds science consultations each week with the school staff.

THE POSSIBILITY of inviting seventh and eighth graders from Pine Hurst Canyon to attend Camino Pablo in the fall was discussed.

Collings asked the board to think about ways in which the community could have a more effective voice in school legislation.

As former clerk of the board, Faulconer, has moved, it was decided to make an informal presentation of his engraved gavel for long and meritorious service on the board.

RETIRED OFFICERS of this area have begun the organization of a chapter of the national association with all retired commissioned and warrant officers of the army, navy, air force, marine corps, coast guard, public health service and coast geodetic survey eligible to belong. Mapping plans for the chapter are shown, in front row, left to right: Abe Lincoln, navy captain; Chuck Rundquist, lieutenant colonel, army; Herb Freuler, marine major general; back row: Cleo Parks, army lieutenant colonel, and Mel Wolter, navy chief warrant officer.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

A Place in the Sun . . .

WEARING my best walking duds, baggy lavender pants & baggy lavender banker's coat (Ah, So! They match my baggy lavender eyes!) Baby & I set forth for a walk in the sun.

WHAT is this golden stuff streaming down over Suburbia? It's warm & yellow, brings out the blue of the sky, brings out the happy gardeners & hypnotizes homeowners into a sudden hop to the Nursery. Hippy-Hop to the Flower Shop!

A leisurely stroll in the sun & you see things you like—Mary Porter, in her lavender, too, Hoo-Hoo & w/her young son, taking in the white Easter Bunnies in the window of Orinda Pet Shop.

In the Post Office, red-headed clerk, Lois Ness was surveying the scene & wishing SHE could sprint outside for a spring-time cartwheel . . . & we MIGHT mean a hat & not the gymnastics. We might!

Bobby Reid, Ellen Kroff & Georgie Hornbeak holding court & Bobbie telling us she can't help but keep slim. She walks up 67 steps daily w/her Young One in tow. Envy her lean profile, we countered w/an attack on Loard's for a lush lemon-custard cone. The Ladies at Loard's informed us they're soon to christen a new candy counter which means all the weight watchers will need more will power than ever!

FOR COUNTRY CLOTHESLINE of the week, we nominate Helen Vallens, chic lady, who looked cool, smart & all set for someplace like Palm Springs in a simple sheath of bronze-olive linen cummerbunded in salmon pink. Even the shoes matched w/small leather discs in the same matching tones.

Getting an early start to a cocktail party in Lafayette, another clothes-horse vote for Thelma Harney, shimmering in the sun in a silvery-gray frock, a mink wrap & a silver kid clutch bag given to her by dgtr. Helen Moore for her B'day.

I GUESS THAT'LL teach us not to go around in our baggy duds—not to mention clay feet of clogs to which pieces of mud & green grass were still clinging after a sudden impulse to do some wedding on the way up our stepping stones.

OVER the magazines in the Drug Store, we heard a conversation bit by two sub-teens & our ears perked up—"Jean Michel Siere? Oh! You mean that Imported Guy!"

Out at Patio Music Shop a very nervous group of Young Men from St. Mary's were rehearsing for an audition at the Purple Onion . . . & Esther James was hurrying her little girl to a clarinet lesson w/Mr. Bandel. (A good name for a music man, eh?)

SPKG. OF MUSIC MEN, the Maestro Dick Dildines have bought the SF's AVALON Ballroom & are giving it a complete refurbishing via decorating, the addition of dining, etcetera. Good Luck!

UP AT TILDEN, the Merry Go Round was going round & round, Da-Da, Whoa & look who was getting her first ride—Wendy Brody, who took the ups & downsies in her stride.

It Happens Every Spring . . .

BABY & I SAT & pulled daisies from the lawn (not the BIG ones, the tiny, teeny things. What would Mr. Mott say!) while the rest of the family got a workout on the Driving Range. That big beautiful Park right in our own backyard! Do newcomers know all that it has to offer . . . ? Golf, picnicking, hiking, horse-trails, fishing, swimming, baseball diamonds, Nature Area, lawns for lolling, walks for strolling . . . not to mention the Carousel & the Choo-Choo Train!

We liked watching the ball-catcher in his caged truck who was protected even under the barrage of swift-flying golf balls. The machine scoops 'em up.

GRIZZLY STABLES was open & owner Ray Ensminger coping w/a horsey crowd . . . Down on Alta Vista, Chris Combs, Jon Donchin, wife Becky were helping Floyd Svensson christen the recently completed tennis court on his property.

I bet he's even considered using it to lock up dgtr. Jonnie's young mare, Bonnie Jean, for even the energetic tennis coach who walks w/a tennis court bounce, doesn't exactly get up THAT way when he's routed out of bed at all ODD hrs. to rescue some horse who has strayed down the road for an early morning snack.

We haven't seen any peacocks preening along El Toyonal lately, but on Moraga Way, we saw TWO dead cats & it just about ruined our day!

A STOP AT THE NURSERY is a salubrious sign of Spring, so we emptied our piggy bank for a bunch of gorgeous primroses . . . Later, at Lucky's, we saw Pat Cunningham eyeing them enviously through the rear of the wagon. He remarked what healthy specimens they were! "Just you wait," said I . . . "One week in my care is all they need to lose that look!" I sometimes suspect nurseries give their plants some rare medicine that the general public doesn't know about! What, for instance, happens to YOUR gift azaleas?

SPEAKING of people with Green Thumbs (which I haven't!) we bumped into Pauline Thrane who mentioned the gorgeous weather & her preference to just stay home & enjoy her garden which she recently has "done over"—like some people do their living rooms. We do remember that once she had a prize collection of petite succulents, natives & wildflowers in a rock-garden wall setting . . . & how does YOUR garden grow?

SCHOOL'S OUT & in the sultriness of the late afternoon, we spied some five Tom Sawyers frolicking COAKING WET to the skin in the shallow water of the concrete drain that slopes down to the freeway. (We dragged one home & hung HIM on the clothesline!)

By Shell, we scared the wits out of Jane Calhoun's little blue wagon for which we apologize (It's not this Lady Driver, it's that darned new car!) . . . Continuing past the Richfield corner, we wondered if nerry Richfield was getting nervous about applying for their Land Use Permit. They aren't. They got it. Sneakily. SIX months ago. Even the Planning Commish didn't know!

OUT CAMINO PABLO way to pick up Daughter at Winnie Gilmore's Dancing, we neared Sol Brae, the pretty home of the Melvin Jacobuses, which reminds us that prominent Republican Ruth has taken on the co-reins for Contra Costa County's Nixon for Governor Committee . . .

Medallion for Margaret . . .

OUR MEDALLION for the week goes to Girl Scout Margaret Irving, who was doing her Good Deed for the Day, delivering aspirins (from one neighbor to another) along w/her Girl Scout cookies.

Correction: The John Guzzos (he's Golf Coach, Driver's Training Instructor, World History Teacher, etc., at Miramonte) do not have NINE children. Only SIX . . . It just seems like nine. Someone always has a friend or two along!

PROUDEST family at U.C.'s Charter Day was the Architect Ian MacKinlays of Las Vegas Rd. . . . bursting their buttons for Ann's father, who is the new Chancellor Edward W. Strong, oldest son when the flu bug bit son Jock, but 8-yr-old Kaki Of the MacKinlays' five children, they were going to take the represented the rest & was the proudest little girl in the audience of 88,000!

THE SCHOOL children's excitement at attending Charter Day was evident early in the morning at all the schools. Quite a host of our kids went along . . . Jeannette Miller, for one mother, loading up her car w/youngsters for the Big Event . . . but the story we liked best was about the Glorietta girl who when asked how she enjoyed it, breathlessly replied . . . "It was just wonderful! I sat next to the Cutest Boy!"

FOOD FOR THOUGHT: The line we liked best in Flower Drum Song—"One of the virtues of growing old is that when you don't go out, you KNOW you're not missing anything!" Not an exact quote, perhaps, but you DO get the idea!

OFD Has Lady Dispatcher

PRETTY DISPATCHER for the Orinda Fire Department is Nan Elmore. This busy young matron is one of two women presently engaged in Contra Costa County in this occupation. Working part time, Nan finds the work "very different, very interesting."

By JANE PUTMAN
If a woman answers, don't hang up. Not if your house is on fire, that it.

Since November, a parttime dispatcher for the Orinda Fire Department is Nan Elmore. The attractive, young matron is much more than an ornament in the radio room of the main station in the village. Her presence relieves a fireman to fight fire or go out on drill.

When a call comes in, she says "Good morning, Orinda Fire Department." Sometimes there is a moment's hesitation at the female voice.

If it is an emergency, Nan pushes the panic button that sounds the alarm bell in the station. Even before the engines roll, by bell system, she notifies Orinda's other two stations. One comes to the main station, the other goes to the fire or stands by.

Next, Nan takes to the radio: "Attention all Orinda Fire units. We have a 329 . . ." All other Orinda units out of the station, but in the area, are notified.

Then the surrounding districts are informed by radio. They are made aware of the fire in the event that mutual aid is needed. This system works both ways—Orinda is informed of outlying fires, also.

In order to transmit the calls by radio, Nan had to become a licensed radio operator. The was issued a permit by the Federal Communications Commission.

Nan registers every call in the department's log book. Time out, time of arrival, name, address—all pertinent information—is noted.

She had to learn the code in order to transmit calls more efficiently. For instance, 10-8 means "in service"; 10-43 means "doctor required"; 10-97 means "arriving scene"; and 10-19 means "return to station". The list is long.

Above the switchboard are buttons which Nan works to signify a siren, alarm bell, radio, red light or flood light.

An accomplished secretary, she often takes dictation from Fire Chief A. P. Winsor or Assistant Chief M. G. Gudo. Nan's extra duties sometimes include making coffee and sewing on buttons!

Nan is secretary to the Contra Costa County Fire Commissioners' Association and a legal secretary for the Northern California Dental Assistants Association. It was through the former that she became a dispatcher.

For thirteen years, she worked as an administrative assistant at the University of California Radiation Laboratory.

When the board is quiet, Nan sometimes fits in her secretarial work. While she hopes that the OFD business doesn't pick up, it usually does in the dry season at home.

At home, 2 Irving Lane, Nan is a typical suburban housewife. She and her husband, Thomas Elmore, Jr., enjoy golf when their busy schedule allows.

The other day, Chief Winsor answered the phone: "Good morning, Orinda Fire Station."

There was a moment's hesitation before he replied: "Where's the lady?"

Orinda Man Shoots Self

Fred Monsen, 53, 163 Moraga Way, Orinda, is reported in "critical" condition today at Contra Costa County Hospital.

He attempted to kill himself Monday with a .32 Colt. automatic, according to the sheriff's office. The bullet emerged just over his left temple, officers said.

He was rushed to Kaiser Hospital, Walnut Creek, by his son, Carl, 26, who found him in the basement of the Monsen home. After emergency treatment was administered, he was transferred to the county hospital.

CLERGYMEN participating in the Lenten services sponsored by four Moraga Valley churches are: Rev. Ross F. Hidy, noted speaker and pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, San Francisco; Rev. Albert S. Hidy, his brother and pastor of the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church, Orinda, where the services are being held; Rev. John Dodson, St. Mark's Methodist, and Rev. William Frankhuizen, St. Giles' Episcopal. Dr. Ronald White of Moraga Valley Presbyterian is another participant.

Hats Off To...

Ladine Hudson, President Friends of the Library . . .

A GILT-EDGED Library Card, please, for Mrs. Miles (Ladine) Hudson, president of the Friends of the Orinda Library, the best friend a library ever had. In fact, the group got its start when Ladine teamed up with Mrs. Clay (Muir) Sorrick in June, 1959, to start "Friends" and to serve as its first membership chairman.

BOOKS have always been a pet love of this lady who helped to launch the library at Glorietta School. Later she served as chairman of the Orinda grammar school district libraries. It runs in the family, for her sister is an assistant librarian. Her brother is president of Santa Rosa Junior College.

The long-time localite has strawberry blonde hair and a low voice that's easy on the ear. She first lived on Valley View Drive in 1939, now makes her home on Acalanes Road.

Her dentist husband, Miles, is a native New Zealander who has been coach of the U.C. rugby team for 25 years. The Hudsons' two sons are Bob, 20, a Pre-Med sophomore at U.C., a Beta, and Doug, 18, a U.C. freshman, also majoring in Pre-Med.

A MEMBER of the Orinda Library Board, a past vice-chairman of the Friends group, Ladine has also wielded the gavel for Spruce branch of Children's Hospital and leaves her books occasionally for dancing as a member of Hill 'n Dale.

For her contribution to the World of Books during National Book Week, April 1-8, Hats Off to Mrs. Miles Hudson . . . and all the Friends of the Orinda Library!

Klatsch for Cancer Drive

Mrs. Charles David, 3814 Lower Happy Valley Road in Lafayette, entertained with a coffee party honoring Mrs. J. J. Van Loben Sels Jr., Lafayette chairman of the April Cancer campaign, and other volunteers, recently at her home.

Mrs. David is an assistant chairman for her community in the annual educational and fund-raising drive conducted by the American Cancer Society. Montgomery Is Re-elected Fire Association Head

Zachary Montgomery, 6 Overhill Court, Orinda, was re-elected president of the Contra Costa County Fire Commissioners' Association for the current year at its first quarterly dinner-meeting held at the Casa Orinda Restaurant, recently.

Other officers re-elected were commissioner, Wendell R. Parker, Central Fire District, vice president, and Nan M. Elmore of Orinda, secretary-treasurer.

Highlights of the evening included discussion of assembly bill 1355, which concerns reorganization, control and boundaries of the fire districts. Research of the bill was conducted by Clarence E. Betz, secretary-finance officer of the Orinda County Fire Protection District, which reflected the official thinking of the district attorney's office regarding the bill.

Montgomery stated that a five man board would be selected to study this bill with the current committee of the fire chiefs. Action was deferred pending further investigation of the problem.

The role of the state division of forestry in fire fighting situations in Contra Costa County was discussed and it was proposed and passed that a meeting would be held in the near future with members of the state forestry to clarify their participation in the Contra Costa County Fire Protection Districts.

Twenty-seven fire commissioners and chiefs attend the meeting representing 11 fire protection districts of the county.

Nixon Here

Richard Nixon will bring his campaign for the governorship to Walnut Creek on Tuesday when he will be the guest of honor at an informal reception sponsored by the Republican Coordinating Council from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Elks Club.

His supporters will be able to meet Nixon personally, hear his campaign plans for the coming months and his program for California if he is elected.

NIXON plans to fly from Salinas to Buchanan Field, landing at about 3 p.m., then drive through downtown Walnut Creek to the reception. He will be escorted from the airport by Jackson Davis, his Walnut Creek chairman.

Ralph Hill, his campaign chairman in Contra Costa, announced this will be Nixon's only local appearance before the primary election June 5.

FOLLOWING the reception he will attend a Chamber of Commerce dinner at Concord, and that night drive on to San Francisco.

Mrs. Harmon Howard and Mrs. Frank E. Young, executive members of the Republican Coordinating Council, will serve as co-chairmen for the reception.

Invitations will be sent to many area Republicans as well as civic leaders in the city and neighboring towns. Admittance will be open to all interested voters.

Knox Announces Bid for Reelection

John T. Knox, Richmond attorney, announced this week that he would seek his party's nomination in the June primary election for the seat he now holds.

A Democrat, Knox was elected to represent the 11th Assembly District in November, 1960, when he swamped his Republican opponent by 20,000 votes.

At a recent convention of the Federation of Democratic Clubs, Knox was unanimously endorsed for the Assembly post in the new 11th Assembly District, which now includes Crockett, Kensington, Orinda, Moraga and Lafayette, in addition to Richmond, San Pablo, El Cerrito, Pinole, Hercules and Redwood.

WINDING UP his first term in the state legislature, Knox was honored by appointments to the important Assembly Rules Committee and the "Little Hoover" commission which will examine the operations of state government.

The incumbent assemblyman is a vice-chairman of the committee on governmental efficiency and economy; member, assembly committees on criminal procedure, industrial relations, revenue and taxation, finance and insurance.

Knox campaigned in 1960 on a program of protecting the consumer and has been the author and co-author of a number of bills affecting the consumer. HE CO-AUTHORED a bill to remove the sales tax on prescription drugs; helped draft legislation to place federal type protection on cosmetics manufactured in the state; authored legislation to protect the buyer against being overcharged on sales taxes and increased consumer protection of installment sales contracts. He also supported a measure to protect consumers from being bilked by health and dance studios; worked to establish proper labeling where there are hazardous substances, and supported legislation to prevent fraud in termite legislation.

The Assemblyman said he has "a deep concern about the problems of the unorganized consumer. I want to continue to work in this area, an area in which the health, the safety and the cost of living of our people are affected."

"I'm also concerned about the effect of automation and how the united effort of educators, labor and management can make progress in reducing the unemployment load."

Assemblyman Knox resides with his wife, Jean, and their three children at Point Richmond. The 37-year-old legislator was educated in the public schools of Alhambra, California.

Shell Blasts Brown and Nixon in Lafayette Talk

Joseph Shell, campaigning for the Republican nomination for governor, lashed out at Richard Nixon's sincerity and Governor Edmund G. Brown's competence when he paused in Lafayette Monday evening on the campaign trail.

More than 300 persons jammed into the Happy Valley Inn to hear Shell indirectly accuse the former vice-president of using the gubernatorial race for national campaign purposes.

This came when he compared his own fight for the nomination as the campaign of a man "who has been working with state government and knows its problems—who has no further political ambitions."

At the same time, the lawmaker pointed to the continual climb in taxes, declaring that the "state is approaching a critical danger point because of the reckless tax and spend policies of the incompetent Brown-Unruh administration in Sacramento."

"UNLESS it is specifically spelled out by statute," Shell declared, "it has become open season for State Department heads and commissions to issue orders defining what a businessman may and may not do in the normal operation of his own firm, restricting his control over what he does with his property and with money which he has earned."

"And, ironically, in such cases, the bureaucrats have the power to force obedience by holding the threat of revocation of a business license over the heads of non-conformists," Shell declared.

Citing the paradox of more people being gainfully employed in California, while unemployment continues to climb upward, Shell declared:

"Due to the ineptitude of the Brown administration, taxation and bureaucratic dictation is forcing industries to move to other states to seek a more favorable business climate."

"THIS SITUATION must be changed. We must provide adequate tax relief, and at the same time readjust our economy so that the state can provide the opportunity for industry to operate and expand, at the same time providing more jobs for a sufficient number of workers with sufficient pay for sufficient work done."

The appearance of Shell was planned by the Contra Costa County Chapter of the Republican Association of California, headed by Dr. John A. Richardson.

Other members of the chapter sponsoring the reception include David Fisher of Pleasant Hill, chapter president; Robert Van Gelder of Orinda, vice-president; Mrs. Paul Heffernan, secretary; C. S. Whitson, M.D., of Richmond, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Van Gelder, program chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Valory of Lafayette, reservations; Mrs. Alma Hicks of El Sobrante and Mrs. Albert Engleking of Walnut Creek, co-chairmen in charge of decorations.

Don Doyle Staying by Home Fires

Rumors that Donald Doyle, for six years a Contra Costa assemblyman, will run for office are completely unfounded, he told The Sun this week.

"It may be that people see me attending meetings and mixing with people in public life and assume I am interested in running for office," said Doyle.

"But my general insurance business and family are keeping me busy, and I have no intention of running," he added.

"But I decided to retire from office in 1959 because I had promised my business associates and friends that I would devote full time to business if in six years it appeared I would not be able to try for a responsible position," he said.

It was shortly before that time that Doyle drew criticism as chairman of an assembly textbook study committee, after he was accused of having a textbook publisher's employee as an advisor.

Rumors have had Doyle running for assembly against Jerome Waldie; for supervisor against Thomas Coll who he is supporting, and even for congress, with the stipulation that he change his affiliation from Republican to Democratic.

Mushrooms on Your Steak—Don't Mistake!

If you don't know the difference between a toadstool and a mushroom you'd better have plain gravy on your steak according to Dr. Elizabeth Jolly, assistant county health officer.

Parents of small children are urged to remove mushrooms from their yards and to warn children not to pick them in the fields.

"As none but the experts are able to tell poisonous from non-poisonous mushrooms, it is safest not to eat any but those purchased through reliable commercial sources," Dr. Jolly continued.

"Often a person's 'knowledge' of the difference between harmless and harmful varieties has depended on his good fortune in picking mushrooms in a field where no poisonous ones were growing."

Mushrooms poisoning causes severe diarrhea, cramps, and prostration and should have immediate medical attention, Dr. Jolly said.

'Let Us Bray' Said Donkey To New Owner!

Guy Woodman of 3450 Mountain Springs Road in Lafayette put The Sun want ad columns to an unusual use and sold a donkey for $50.

J. Heath, Jr. of 50 Tara Road in Orinda reversed that situation and found his lost dachshund dog through a Sun want ad.

Mrs. H. A. Smith of 280 Acacia Lane in Alamo sold a ladies' vanity and a men's chifferobe through The Sun want ad columns.

These are just three more typical "success stories" which credit The Sun's 5-in-1 system where each want ad goes into The Sun Shopping News on Wednesday and the regular subscription newspaper on Friday: The Suns of Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Orinda and Lafayette.

Two Area Men Die in Naval Plane Crash

A Walnut Creek resident and a Lafayette resident were among the 10 who died in the crash of a Neptune patrol bomber in Washington last week.

The 10 men aboard the plane were all Alameda Naval Air Station reservists.

The bodies of Harvey Thompson, 27, of 1461 Sunset Loop, Walnut Creek, and Cornelius C. Dunn, 23, of 3170 Stanley Boulevard, Lafayette, were recovered with seven others Monday.

The plane reported engine trouble near Eugene, Oregon, last Wednesday on a flight from Seattle to Alameda.

Pilots of two jet planes sent to assist said the Neptune pilot signaled he could not respond when they requested he follow them.

The plane then disappeared and into a cloud bank and was not heard from after that.

The wreckage was found Monday where it had crashed into Elk Mountain, southwest of Mt. St. Helens.

Republican Flowers For Mr. President

Flowers from the garden of a democratic Republican of Contra Costa County were used to decorate the room of President John F. Kennedy during his recent stay.

He resided at the presidential mansion on University of California campus while in Berkeley for the charter day ceremony.

He was not aware of the fact that the posies were from a staunch Republican. Perhaps a flower from any other party would smell as sweet.

Second Retarded Children Classes Being Planned

Addition of a second class for the severely mentally retarded children of Central Contra Costa County is being considered by the office of the county superintendent.

Dr. H. Frank Bradford, director of administrative services, reports the expansion is being planned in view of a large waiting list for the existing class at the Valley School, Alamo, and indications that the growing population of the area includes still other children who need the facilities.

Valley School is for severely mentally retarded children of five to 18 years from the communities of Orinda, Moraga, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Alamo, Danville and San Ramon.

Dr. Bradford emphasized that the school does not serve Concord, Pleasant Hill, Port Chicago and West Pittsburg, children from which attend the special classes operated by Mt. Diablo Unified School District.

The class at the Valley School is taught by Mrs. Magnolia Valery, assisted by Mrs. Betty Lindsay. It enrolls 12, the maximum allowed by state law in classes for the severely mentally retarded.

Docs Dodging Visits? 'Suburbia' Tells Why

Although no physician will ever refuse to visit a patient who should not be moved, most doctors today prefer to see people in their offices, if the patients are able to come in.

If you want to know why you may be having trouble getting a doctor to come when you think you need him, read "Are Suburban Doctors Dodging House Calls?" by John Driver, in the April issue of Suburbia Today, which will reach you with next Friday's edition of The Sun.

Harry Golden, author of "Only in America," "For Two Cents Plain" and "Enjoy, Enjoy," celebrates National Library Week (April 8-15), by writing a special story for the supplement on the wonders of reading what tremendous benefits a partnership between you and books can bring.

There is also a story by famous bridge partners Tobias Stone and Al Roth, who claim husbands and wives can and should play bridge together—once they've learned the special language of the game. They end their story with a quiz for reconciled (they hope) partners.

Then, in a close-up look at the life of 222 American Field Service exchange students studying in America this year, author Evelyn Lauter tells about Sharaf Rahman from Karachi, Pakistan, who is staying with the William Avery family in Glen Ellyn, Illinois.

Both Sharaf and the Averages are finding the experience a wonderful, broadening one they will never forget.

Humorist George Olin (who is also a seasoned commuter) contributed his views on how one should tackle the giddy and feverish excitement of spring. Fight it firmly, he says, and it will soon be over. You'll be normal by July.

There's lots of good news for the garden, this month. First, there's a story by lighting expert Stanley Schuler, in the new ways to light your grounds so that you can enjoy your terrace and garden around the clock.

MISS M. JENNIE BICKERSTAFF on her way home from Moraga School. After teaching a group which ranged from first graders to first year high school students, she had to cope with the long ride over the hills on horseback, dismounting to work the shoulder gates. The road? Mt. Diablo Boulevard!

MEMORIES of Lafayette's early days and of her career as a school teacher come flooding back as Mrs. William Rosenberg looks over an album of "the good old days."

LAFAYETTE SCHOOL, where Miss Bickerstaff taught from July, 1899, until June, 1902. She and a Miss Peaterson were the only teachers. Many of Miss Bickerstaff's former students will share in the celebration of their revered former teacher's 90th birthday.

"...Dear Teacher, a Happy Birthday to You!"

By JANE PUTNAM

Margaret Jennie Bickerstaff first came to Lafayette in 1875. Eighty-seven years later, last Monday noon, we met Miss Bickerstaff, now Mrs. William Rosenberg. Radiating charm and pride, Lafayette's first lady, took my friend and me on a tour of her white house.

It is a small frame house. As many times as we'd gone whizzing by it on the freeway, we had never noticed it before. We had difficulty finding it—3615 Mt. Diablo Boulevard. We could have sworn that there were only stores and offices and gas stations in that block.

Walking through the neat, primula bordered garden, it was as if we were in another world. And the minute Miss Bickerstaff let us in we knew without a doubt that we were in another world—a world of yesterday, a world kept intact by the gracious, white-haired woman.

The reason we were there was because a former student of Miss Bickerstaff's called the paper and said that the retired teacher would be ninety on Wednesday. Because she was Lafayette's senior citizen, had lived in the area for such a long time, had taught for so many years, and had so many friends—wouldn't we like to run a story about her?

I called Miss Bickerstaff. She was not comfortable with being interviewed on the telephone—loath to being publicized.

However, she agreed to see the friend whom I was meeting for lunch and me shortly. Leaving a desk piled high with work, I figured that I had to get my story in half an hour.

Miss Bickerstaff was not quick to get down to business.

"Wouldn't you like to see the house?" Would we! First we saw the bedroom with the lavender and white quilt "Mrs. Hall made for me years ago." The craftsmanship inspired awe even in a person who cannot sew.

The tiered marble-topped bureau was unique, and the faded valentines tacked on the wall smacked of a "hearts and flowers" sentiment that the multi-million dollar greeting card companies have never quite been able to duplicate.

As Miss Bickerstaff took us through the living room, she apologized for the state of her house. She does all her own housework, we were unexpected and they'd had company for dinner last night. Never had we seen a more immaculate house.

In her beautifully modulated voice she told us in detail about a ceremonial Chinese table which her husband, a cabinet-maker, refinished, repaired to make a handsome coffee table. A rosewood French knee-hole desk. Her old organ stool, serving as a plant stand.

The original house, the front part where we were standing, she explained, was built in 1879 by her father with an assist by Josiah Allen. Through the years, it was "made over and added to."

As we entered the dining room, I thought that it must be the granddaddy of all family rooms. There was a stone floor-to-ceiling fireplace with a fire going, a dropleaf table, an exquisitely carved Italian Scabell chair, marble-topped tables, a day bed, a platform rocker, a shelf of china plates set on end. One of the blue ones, over 100 years old, was from Miss Bickerstaff's great-grandmother's china shop.

Through a side door we were shown the wild currant; acacia tree in bloom; red-hot pokers newly ablaze; a pomegranate tree; buds on pink cherry and white cherry trees eager to burst, and a creek. The sound of the traffic on the freeway was distanced by its babbling.

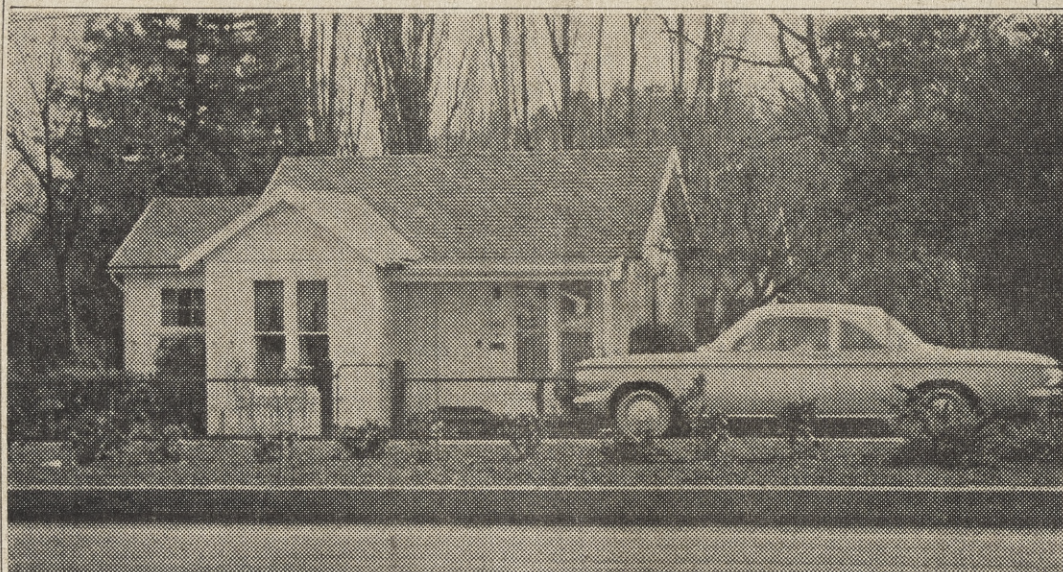

With quick, sure steps, our hostess escorted us through the spacious kitchen and service porch. "What's under the white oilcloth covering?" my friend asked about an antique cabinet near the washub. We weren't surprised by Miss Bickerstaff's answer: "A marble top."

In the backyard, she pointed out the woodhouses, the ferns and a redwood, seven-stories tall, which she had planted as a small tree. "I do wish my friend, the squirrel, would come out," she said.

We settled down by the fire

LAFAYETTE residents were community minded in the pioneer days, too. This first post office was built through families donating a dollar a child! The girl on horseback is the daughter of Mrs. Van Meter, first postmaster. This building also served as Lafayette's first "library" when Mrs. Whitbeck left a box of books for circulation.

AN OASIS of the past amid the confusion of the present is the white frame house at 3615 Mt. Diablo Boulevard. On the main street, a stone's throw from the freeway, few commuters have ever noticed the house.

forty-five minutes from the time of our arrival, and I tried to remember my deadline and why I had come. Oh yes. "How many years did you teach?"

"Thirty-seven years," Miss Bickerstaff paused seeming to think back over them. "Thirty-seven-and-a-half, but you don't count the half."

From 1892-1907, she taught at Glorietta School then the old "Moraga School." Across from the familiar yellow board house at Moraga Highway and Monte Veda, the building still stands, converted to a house.

Some years ago, when Miss Bickerstaff revisited it, she went through the workshop of the owner, a taxidermist, into the old classroom and found a piece of blackboard, a crayon and chalk. The memories of the days when she had taught students from the first grade to the first year of high school, all in that one room, came flooding back.

Miss Bickerstaff was at the Lafayette school for three years, serving as principal; six and a half years at Pacheco; twenty-one years Walnut Creek. The old Walnut Creek school was located at where Simons Hardware is now. There were originally two rooms in the school house, and Miss Bickerstaff became vice principal as it grew. "Mr. Gibson was principal."

Her first love was in teaching the primary grades, and music to all grades. "To be able to teach little folks—that's something in itself," she said.

When her family first came to Lafayette, in 1875, Margaret Jennie was three years old. After two years, they went back to Pennsylvania. Returning here in 1879, her father built their house on the narrow, graveled main street of town. Even then, she laughingly recalled, there was traffic on Mt. Diablo Boulevard: Buggies, wagons—farmers hauling hay and grain to market—and sometimes four and six horses.

Their nearest neighbor, the family of Miss Bickerstaff's close friend, Carrie Huff lived where Saffeway is now. Miss Huff became Mrs. Van Meter, Lafayette's first postmaster.

As a small girl, one of Miss

Bickerstaff's greatest pleasures was to browse in Benjamin Shreve's general store. Except for a new front, that building remains intact as Lafayette Toyland and Sports Center, 3535 Plaza Way.

Aloud, Miss Bickerstaff visualized the general store: "To the right, pretty ribbons, thread, needles, calicos. In the rear, draperies hanging, horse collars, groceries. In front, post office boxes A, B, C, D."

She went on to explain how Benjamin Shreve had petitioned congress for a post office. When I asked her what year that was, she hesitated. Rather than hazard a guess, with school teacher precision, she looked up "Shreve" in one of the thick volumes of "History of Contra Costa County" put out by the Berkeley Press in 1940.

She started reading about how Benjamin Shreve had, in 1852, come from Kentucky on an "uneventful trip of six months duration": how he taught in Lafayette from 1853-54; how he had farmed 250 acres of land. In 1857, he petitioned congress for a post office for what then was called "Centerville." Miss Bickerstaff closed the book.

"It was Benjamin Shreve who named Lafayette, after the French general," she said. And later, it was through the community efforts of families donating one dollar per child that the first post office was established with Mrs. Van Meter as postmaster. The post office also housed Lafayette's first "library," a box of books.

Miss Bickerstaff went on, at our urging, talking about old familiar landmarks: The Elams' house where the shopping center is... Philip Lamp's Hotel at the corner of Moraga Road and Mt. Diablo Boulevard... The "Home guards" station... The old school house where the Methodist Church is... Bickerstaff hill, behind "our little acre" where her father raised "all it could hold." Bickerstaff hill is probably the only one still standing.

When my friend asked her what she thought about all of the changes, Miss Bickerstaff smiled sweetly, shook her head and said firmly, "I don't like to talk about that." She walked to the kitchen and came back with a box.

We sat next to her on the day-bed and examined its contents. Giving us a running commentary on the photographs, she would say of a class picture, "Here's Jimmy who became a doctor. And Frank..." When I wanted further identification of her former students, realizing that many of them were prominent local people, Miss Bickerstaff tightened her lips. "I won't name names, because I have no favorites."

There were other mementoes in the box: A water colored book-mark; knitting needles "Grandma Barnes" had given her when she was a small girl; ornate ribbons from Benjamin Shreve's general store. She had thought them to be so beautiful in 1883. They still were.

Although she was reluctant to discuss her personal affairs, Miss Bickerstaff married Lafayette pioneer Stephen Dewing and acquired a ready-made family. Dewing had six grown children: Three sons and three daughters. Some time after his death, in a harmonica class in Santa Cruz, she met her present husband. A few years ago, before another class in Southern California, they performed a duet. "He's better than I am," she said. "But don't print about all that!"

William Rosenberg, in a jaunty red waistcoat returned from his walk. Although unintentional, his presence reminded us that it was past two!

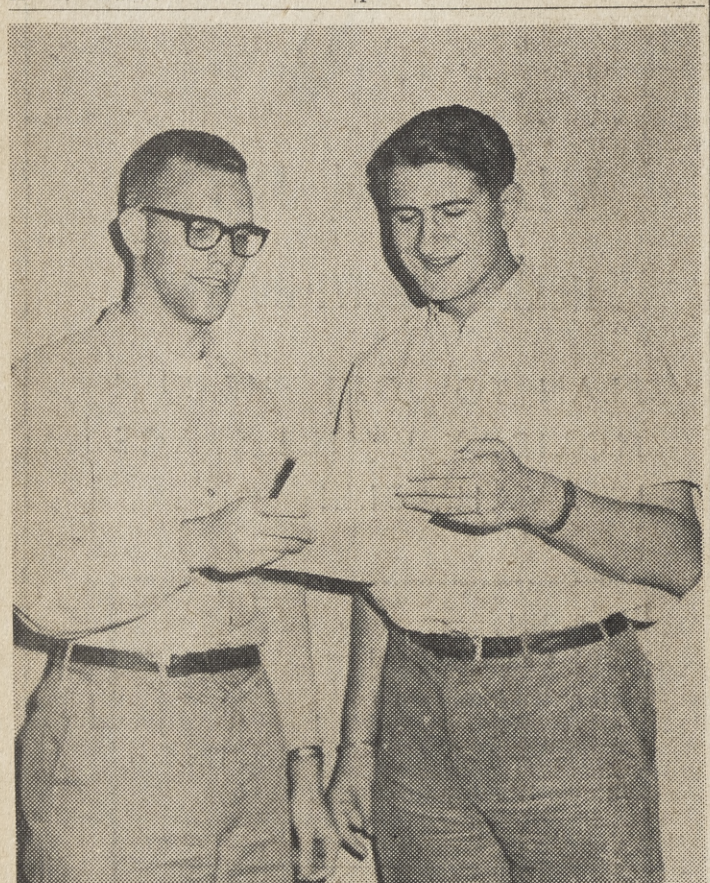

Miss Bickerstaff saw us to the small wooden front porch. As we walked down the stairs, she pointed to some giant daffodils in a border by the house, and compared them to some scrawny ones against the fence. "Pays to get good bulbs," she said. "Planted them at the same time."

My friend dropped me off at the office without lunch and without a story.

What was the story I had gone to get anyway? I wasn't sure. I was only sure that it made me feel good to know that Miss Bickerstaff and her house were there.

Postal Clerks Receive Awards

Lafayette postal clerks Roland E. Braz and George M. Owens received awards from the post office department, Postmaster H. T. Crandell announced recently. The awards covered suggestions for the improvement of mail handling at the Lafayette post office.

Credit Union Has Opening for New Headquarters

Serving on the loan advisory committee for the Walnut Creek office are Donald Judd and Hugh Challans of Walnut Creek, and Mrs. Alfreda Strick and Walter McAdams of Lafayette.

New Series on Bible Teaching Starts Saturday

A new radio series designed to highlight the essential vitality of Bible teachings was announced today by the local assistant committee on publication for the Christian Science Church, Mrs. William Worden of Orinda.

Starting April 8 more than 700 stations will broadcast the weekly 15-minute series called "The Bible Speaks to You." The programs describe how prayer can meet familiar problems confronting people in all walks of life. They feature well-loved selections from the Bible, read against a background of organ music. Informal discussion brings out the practical application of these teachings.

"The Bible Speaks to You" replaces the series "How Christian Science Heals" which has been on the air every week since September 18, 1953. It is produced by The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

People of many faiths in Africa, Australia, Europe, Great Britain, New Zealand and South America, as well as in all parts of the United States and Canada, are expected to hear the program.

Opening the series this weekend is an introductory program on the subject "Why Read the Bible?" The commentator will be Ralph E. Wagers, a Christian Science teacher, practitioner, and editor. The host will be Harry Bacon Clark, who for many years was a CBS newscaster.

Locally the series "The Bible Speaks to You" may be heard over: KRE—1400 KC, 7:15 a.m., Saturday; KGO — 810 KC, 10 a.m., Sunday.

Let's Put Those Utility Lines Underground

The placing of utility and telephone lines underground at a feasible cost would be a boon to our area, where the residential subdivision is king.

The resulting improved appearance would increase home values and the prestige of the central county.

A hopeful note came last week when the Walnut Creek City Council decided to appoint a committee to consider an ordinance which would require the elimination of unsightly lines and poles from the new Walnut Creek subdivisions.

IF SUCH an ordinance were passed, it would only be following a precedent already set in Oakland, where three admittedly small subdivisions were built with underground utilities, and also Palo Alto, where such an ordinance was passed in June, 1960.

A great deal of advance planning would be necessary before a law is passed under circumstances where developers will be happy to build according to specifications.

But underground utilities appear to be part of a trend, and a trend which our bedroom central county area cannot afford to ignore.

The cost is the problem, and for this reason, the City of Walnut Creek has run into troubles with its two existing underground districts.

AN ANSWER to the cost problem has been provided by an Oakland developer. Instead of contracting with the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for construction of the underground lines, he called for open bids from private contractors, and we able to do the job at greatly reduced cost.

The resulting attractive subdivision has just under 30 homes. There are two other existing subdivisions in Oakland, both small in size, that also have no poles and lines to mar the overall effect.

We are glad the Walnut Creek council is taking this matter seriously, and hope that the committee's work won't bog down in the examination of cost estimates.

A starting point might be the new Walnut Creek Palos Verdes subdivision, where it has been agreed that the commercial portion will have underground utilities.

WHY NOT create the most attractive subdivision in the central county by finding a method to finance the underground utilities in the subdivision itself?

Picking Trustees—A Remedy Needed

The situation where a school board trustee is appointed by his fellow trustees, and then runs for office later as an incumbent, without any public consideration, has the Moraga school board trustees worried.

And it should worry all trustees who believe the people should decide between capable candidates for the responsible position, without any one candidate being given a special advantage.

The Moraga trustees asked County Superintendent of Schools Floyd Marcus to help them set up a procedure where all interested persons might apply for a trustee position vacated before the end of the term, and where the decision might be made after suitable public hearings and consideration.

UNDER the present procedures in many districts, including our local elementary and high school districts, the school board members in effect pick the new trustee.

It is true that a trustee who resigns or leaves the board for some reason before the end of his term must be replaced, to avoid throwing an undue burden on the rest of the trustees.

And a special election would seem to be costly and unnecessary.

A replacement must be found, and in a way where he, like his fellow trustees, will be responsible to the people to the maximum degree possible.

ALSO, MOST boards have five or seven members, and a missing trustee increases the likelihood of split votes and board indecision.

The problem is also found in many other special districts which have been created to provide a special service to the people.

And we see examples of the practice every week in our area.

Usually the people appointed by their fellow trustees are capable, but this is not the point.

LET THEM be not only capable, but aware of their relationship to the voters.

We will be watching with interest how a new procedure may be developed to insure a public consideration of the appointment of new board members of school districts, which may be relevant to the selection of all special district trustees.

For Safer Walking...

The county public works department deserves credit for "seeing the light" and assisting in constructing walkways along the dangerous Walnut Boulevard leading to Walnut Heights School.

Grading operations by county engineers were completed last week, and now Walnut Heights parents will go ahead with efforts to finance construction of a surface in the walkway areas.

This sort of problem, where children are not able to walk off the roads and automobiles appear unexpectedly is found throughout our area.

The "Walnut Heights solution will bear watching.

Many other parents in other schools are concerned where their children do not live far enough from the school to qualify for bus rides, but live too far from the school to guarantee the child's safety from hurrying autos.

The Walnut Heights parents, led by Mrs. Larry Coleman, are showing that determination to improve walking conditions for their children can pay off.

We hope their fund raising effort, a move April 17 at the school, will be a big success.

No Story Here..

By BERNICE SCHARLACH

Sometimes a reporter gets a tip on a story, checks it out and finds there is really nothing newsworthy in it.

That happened to me this week, but far from being disappointed, I was delighted. Because the fact that there was no story in it was, to us, a very big story indeed.

It started from a memo from the "higher-ups" that a Negro social worker and his family was moving into one of the all-white parts of our area.

There was a rumor that a real estate woman started a scare by saying she had four homes for sale in the same area as a result.

Would I check it out? Possibly start by calling a minister nearby who had discussed the matter in a sermon the previous Sunday.

What I found out was the heart-warming story of what can be done from the pulpit to check the small bonfires of prejudice before they flare up into engulfing flames.

The ministers in the area involved usually get together for lunch on Wednesdays. One of them mentioned the rumor he had heard about a Negro family moving in.

"Yes," said another. "They are buying the home of one of my parishioners. But I'm a little concerned about the transaction because my parishioner is a rather emotionally disturbed person."

"Had a lot of trouble getting along with the people on her block, and told them that, to spite them, she was going to sell to Negroes. That kind of an entry into a neighborhood kind of puts the new family doubly on the spot."

"Well," said the first minister, "seems to me we can incorporate this into our sermons. Our congregants often don't take seriously enough this witness of the Christian movement that our Savior died for all men, for all the children of God. Brotherhood is something we don't relegate to only one sermon in February."

"Just so happens," mused another minister, "I'm in the midst of a series of talks on the Ten Commandments. Perfect theme, before the rumors start to fly, for my sermon on Bearing False Witness."

"Our church has always maintained an 'open door' policy, and many of our members have been active in crusading for the Open House Covenant. Just a question of practicing what we preach."

So from the pulpit the way was paved for the peaceful reception of a new family into the neighborhood. No unpleasant demonstrations, no hostility, no rash of "For Sale" signs dotting the adjacent lawns.

No "story" in this, but we thought you'd like to know.

Catch a Falling Germ & Put It in Your Pocket!

By MARIA MONAHAN

THE COMMON COLD is a very communal thing in most families.

It's a case of share & share alike when the bad, bad germ makes you Sick, Sick, Sick.

With bloodshot eyes, runny noses, raw throats & distasteful dispositions, not to mention noses like a bunch of bulbous rosy radishes.

It is at this point it's Mother who needs a little Tea & Sympathy.

At least some kind words. A few crumbs of consideration.

FOR INSTANCE, wouldn't it be nice when Mother's nursing her fabby who all hab codes id the head, if they would sound like this—

"Gee, Mom! What delicious bouillon. You REALLY know how to make soup!"

"Thanks, Mom, for bringing me that dinner tray. I ate every bit of it."

"Oh, yes! Breakfast & lunch, too..."

"And all those thoughtful snacks, Mom... But I would never eat cookies or crackers in bed."

"ICE CREAM. Mom, you're a doll!"

"Don't bother, Mom. We'll straighten the bed up & put away all the books & magazines and checkers & monopoly parts. We wouldn't think of letting YOU pick up all those things."

"The Vicks, Mom? Oh, it smells WONDERFUL!"

"Yes, Mom, I turned off the heating pad."

"Yes, Mom, I'm taking my aspirin every four hours."

"DELICIOUS cough syrup! Where DID you get it?"

"Don't bother to buy me a comic book when you go to the store, but thanks, anyhow."

"Yes, Mom, the piece of flannel is right over my chest!"

"Mom, you should have been a Nurse!"

"You should have been a Doctor, Mom..."

"Practically a Florence Nightingale!"

"I'm going to sleep ALL afternoon!"

"Well, isn't that what wastebaskets are for, Mom? I'd NEVER throw Kleenex around the room."

"We know better than to have pillow fights when we're sick!"

"MAYBE I COULD straighten out a few drawers while I'm in bed."

"Thanks for the pitcher of water, Mom..."

"GOOD JUICE. Did you get some?"

"No rock 'n roll music on the radio for me, Mom!"

"I'll be real careful with the water colors..."

"GESUNDHEIT! I'd never sneeze in your face, Mom..."

"I WOULDN'T think of coughing on the baby, Mom!"

"I bet when I grow up I'll find a cure for the cold!"

"Mom, you look kinda tired."

"Why don't you go to bed, too, Mom? We'll manage somehow!"

BLOODY FIST

Dear Editor:

Remembering that thousands of American boys gave their lives fighting communist aggression in Korea, it is good to know that we continue to oppose the seating of Red China in the United Nations.

Communist China defies, by word and deed, the principals of the UN Charter. Three hundred and fifty-one members of congress recently signed a petition stating in clear and unmistakable language their opposition to the seating of Red China in the UN.

Never should any nation be admitted simply because that nation pounds on the door with a bloody fist trying to gain admission to the UN.

MALCOM CHAMPLIN

THANKS!

Dear Editor,

It is difficult to express adequately my gratitude to you who tendered your condolences on the occasion of our recent bereavement. The loss of Brother S. Albert, our late president, and his two conferees, Brother Julius and Brother Cornelius, has no parallel in the history of our college.

But fortunately this tragedy has not been without its benefits to all of us here at St. Mary's College. It has made us aware, as never before, of the immense good will that the college enjoys from its friends on other campuses and throughout the California community. The testimonies of individuals from various stations in life, from religious leaders of many denominations, from representatives of city and state will not be forgotten by the Brothers of our religious community nor by our devoted lay colleagues of the college our late conferees served so faithfully.

Please accept this personal expression of gratitude from me and the members of the St. Mary's College faculty for your thoughtfulness in commemorating our departed in an In Memoriam box even though it meant establishing a precedent new to The Sun chain.

BROTHER T. MICHAEL, FSC

ERROR CORRECTED

Dear Editor:

In reviewing my notes and the various news reports on the proposed incorporation of the downtown area of Lafayette, I found that I erred in naming the Lafayette Improvement Association as one of the proponents.

This error transpired from the several names mentioned in news releases. But my thorough review shows that the Lafayette Improvement Association, along with the Chamber of Commerce, have merely been standing by to watch the progress of the proposed incorporation.

Accordingly I wish to retract my statement that the Lafayette Improvement Association is back of the move. Their name alone should have told me that they could not and would not take a firm stand on such a matter.

To be more exact I find that the Downtown Property Owners' Association seems to be the only known sponsor of the move.

Here's Easy Way to Have Fun---Or a Heart Attack

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

All you "old" read in your twenties or thirties had better not dad further.

You're going to be 1. envious at my athletic prowess; or 2. disgusted.

Why? Well, this old man (41) played 18 holes of golf Sunday morning, and then three sets of tennis Sunday afternoon!

And just to keep the neighbors happy and the weeds unhappy, I gardened an hour in between the two athletic events.

Of course, I was three-quarters dead Sunday night; and half dead Monday.

But it was fun. (Oh, those aching muscles!)

Time for spring and exercise?

Seriously, though, the golf courses, tennis courts and other athletic fields seem to have sprouted people, as well as weeds, now that spring has sprung.

Gad, but isn't the weather wonderful? And if you, too, have the urge to stretch a muscle or two, why not?

Let's talk tennis for a minute because that was the original idea behind this column.

I was amazed last Saturday and some of Sunday at how many tennis courts were open—not being played upon. Remember the old, hometown municipal court where you sat and waited hours for that one set?

Not expensive, or extensive

Tennis, as you know, does not require expensive or extensive equipment. Borrow a couple of rackets and buy a couple of balls and that's the extent of it. Next, grab one of your children—or, better yet, three others.

I'm a great advocate of playing doubles, rather than singles. Because for "old people" (over 21?) who have not been playing consistently, singles is a mighty tough game. Could be bad for the heart?

Don't suddenly go out and play three sets, if you haven't been exercising. Work up to it. Practice and play a set, then more later.

It's a wonderful family sport and here is something you can do with Johnny and/or Mary. And you'll see many women on the courses, some much better than the men. Why not, mama?

Come and go mighty fast

I like tennis for still another reason. You might not have time (gardening, house chores, guests coming) for a big day of time-consuming golf, but you can be out and back in a couple of hours or less with tennis. (This, of course, doesn't preclude a short trip to pitch and putt golf, which is fun.)

Tennis courts? The high schools have courts, as well as a few other spots (Walnut Creek City Park, Stanley School, etc.)

If not tennis, why not badminton in the yard? Or hiking? Or bowling? Or golf?

Doesn't matter which—as long as you have fun.

Letters to The Editor

WHERE?

Dear Editor:

Enclosed with my contribution for Easter seals I sent a stamped envelope requesting a fact sheet showing how the Easter Seal money is spent, what per cent goes for administration, etc.

Especially I would like to know what Society funds go for prevention of the crippling of children due to causes other than accidents. Is the organization encouraging more and better teaching of nutrition in medical colleges?

Is it helping disseminate to the general public the findings in human and animal nutrition so that expectant mothers may gain knowledge that may help prevent birth defects?

Is the Society concerned with adequate labeling of human foods so that expectant mothers may know from the label what foods have been made nutritionally deficient by process?

These matters are important, and I hope for an early reply.

MRS. C. E. RUST

TWO ERRORS

Dear Editor:

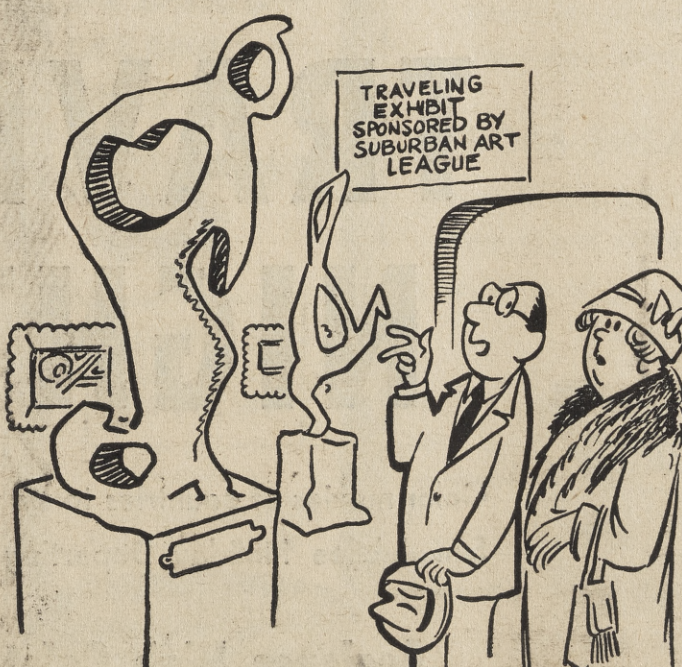

The letter committee which worked to gather the signatures in support of the "Open Letter to President Kennedy" wishes to thank you for your help in making the effort possible.

So far only a few errors appear. If you check page three of the list of the supporters turned in as copy you'll find it headed by Lois Cline. This name you omitted in the ad.

Now, we in our bookkeeping omitted Dr. and Mrs. Jerome Donchin. We, as I am sure you are, are sorry for the omission of the names of these people who cared enough to speak forth on a vital issue.

AAUW Has a Smasher

By JANE PUTNAM
A carnival came to Contra Costa County Wednesday.

The American Association of University Women, Walnut Creek branch, presented its annual fellowship event Wednesday noon at Diablo Country Club. It was a sell-out. Over 650 women enjoyed the cocktails, luncheon, fashions and a stage review by Margaret Woodall.

To use the vernacular of show biz: it was a smasher.

Greeting guests on the steps of the club were two professional clowns from "Petie" party clown service. Their bright make-up, the sunshine and balloons started things off with a festive air.

The decorations were imaginative works of art. Mrs. Robert Hughey and Mrs. Harold Curtis, with their committee, spent countless hours making them. The clown centerpieces, carousels, circus animals... green elephants and spotted gold giraffes... 200 suckers served a dual purpose. Besides decor, they were sold after the party to raise the coffers considerably for this worthwhile event.

Mrs. Louis E. Arnaud, general chairman, made the introductions at the speakers' table. They included Mrs. Neville Massa, state president of AAUW, now residing in Walnut Creek. Mrs. J. W. Hendrickson Jr., branch president, welcomed the guests, who were beautifully attired on this first day of spring.

After lunch, the first part of the fashion show, "fashions for fun, sports, and casual wear," was given. Mrs. Charles F. Price Jr., a past AAUW president, was moderator. The second half of the fashion parade was more formal wear, "for elegance and sparkle."

In between, Miss Woodall, famed stage, television and radio actress, gave a musical review of the Broadway play, "Wildcat." It is coming to San Francisco in April. The New York cast starred Lucille Ball. In jeans and a bright orange shirt, against a background of a gaint giraffe, Miss Woodall sang to the accompaniment of the sound track of the play. She brought Broadway to Diablo.

Arrangements for the models were made by Mrs. David Laity and Mrs. Charles Allen. Models' make-up was handled by Mrs. Richard Burger.

Fashions were from the Clothes Horse, Jo-Ann's, Irene Theiss and La Femme. Chapaux were from Albert's Millinery.

St. Mary's Guild Meets

The Immaculate Guild of St. Mary's Church will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the Danville home of Mrs. L. McCracken. The announcement was made by Mrs. Arthur Schick, guild representative to the United Nations Club. Dr. A. Katok will be guest speaker. His topic is: "Commerce and Germany."

For further information call book club chairman Mrs. Henry Berriman, YE 4-9659.

Sierra Guild Plays Bridge For Hospital

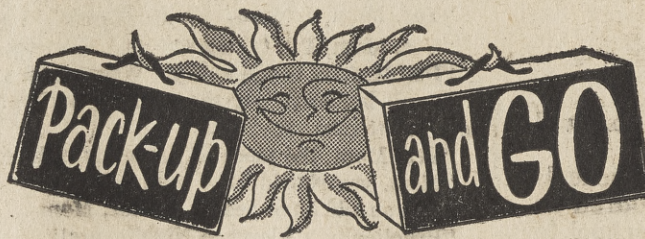

Sierra Guild of the John Muir Hospital auxiliary sponsored a "vanishing bridge party" recently at the home of Mrs. Harmon Howard. Spring blossoms were the decor of the day.

Each player will, in turn, hold another bridge party at her home. When the cycle is repeated once more the bridge marathon "vanishes."

They include Mrs. Edward Garvey of Lafayette, a transfer from San Francisco; Mrs. Boyd Fenton of Orinda, formerly of Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. Donald Marshall of Concord, a former resident of Seattle and New York and Mrs. William A. Wheeler of Lafayette, who transferred from Evanston, Illinois and Philadelphia.

A luncheon honoring the transfers will follow the general meeting on April 10. The luncheon, which will be attended by the Junior League president, Mrs. William M. Channell and board member Mrs. Robert W. Angell, both of Lafayette, will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Leefeldt.

The Cliffords' Classes to Be Fun for Club

Dancing with the Cliffords is what Orinda Woman's Club members, their husbands and friends are doing this spring.

Every Friday night at the Orinda Masonic Hall, starting tonight and continuing for six weeks, there'll be a session of ballroom dancing with George and Doris Clifford teaching the latest rhythms of the "Easy Ed Cheney System." For some it will be an opportunity to add to their dance repertoire. For others it is an opportunity for fun while learning.

During the six Friday night sessions sponsored by the Orinda Woman's Club, dancers will learn the fundamentals of the samba, rumba, fox trot, the Mexican mambo, the tango, the swing, the waltz and the cha cha cha.

There will be classes for beginners, intermediates and advanced dancers, according to Mrs. Robert Buis, club chairman of the series. Beginners will dance from 8 to 9 and intermediates from 9 to 10, to be joined by advanced dancers from 9:30 to 10:30.

Any couples in the community interested in attending this series of classes may contact Mrs. Buis at 254-0780 for reservations and further information.

Welfare Group Plans Festival Fun, Fund Day

A spectacular champagne luncheon will benefit the 1962 Jewish Welfare Federation fund-raising campaign on April 11 at the Hotel Claremont. Champagne will be served on the Terrace at 11:45 and luncheon begins at 12:15.

Dancing Waters, an exciting guest of honor, a mystery guest, and the Saks Fifth Avenue Designers' Fashion Show, will fill out a festive afternoon. Mrs. Moses M. Lesser, chairman of the women's division, noted that "this luncheon, the primary function of the women's division in 1962, will bring together women from all of Alameda and Contra Costa counties, extending from Antioch in the north to Fremont in the south."

Zvi Garay, director of the Jewish Agency in Europe, has just been announced as guest speaker.

Among the women from the Contra Costa Area devoting their time and support to the luncheon are: Mrs. Arthur Scharlach, 569 Arrowhead Drive, Lafayette; Mrs. Max Lund, 24 Muth Drive, Orinda; Mrs. Jess Abramovitz, 273 Santa Fe Drive, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Richard Lesser, 17 Hidden Valley Road, Lafayette; Mrs. Stanley Bass, 1854 Magnolia Way, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Si Siegel, 35 Longridge Road, Orinda and Mrs. Maury Bakon, 1372 Creekside Drive, Walnut Creek.

For further information or reservations call KE 3-7462.

Lawyers' Wives Get Together

Lawyers' Wives of the East Bay will gather at Orinda Country Club on Thursday for their regular meeting. A social hour scheduled for 11:30 will be followed by luncheon at noon.

Mrs. Herman Mintz, president, will conduct a short business meeting at which time officers for the coming year will be elected. Plans for the May Twenty-sixth Annual Kate and Advocate Ball, held for the benefit of Legal Aid Society, will be discussed by co-chairmen Mrs. Wallace Colthurst and Mrs. William Coit.

A unique program entitled, "Food, Fun and Flowers," will be presented by one of the members, Mrs. Lynn Gillard, who is well known in the Bay Area as a lecturer and author of several cook books. Mrs. Gillard will coordinate flower arrangements with a menu, placing special emphasis on Easter fare.

Past presidents of Lawyers' Wives, under the direction of hospitality chairman Mrs. John S. Lewis, will act as hostesses for the afternoon. These will include Mesdames Samuel Berry, Folger Emerson, Nathan Gray, Robert Kroninger, John Pettis and Lynn Gillard.

"ART IN SPRINGTIME" is the theme for a morning tea to be held April 10 from 9:30 until noon in the gardens of the T. M. Harrer estate. Planning a floral arrangement for the event are (left to right) Mmes. Richard Funk, Ralph Hickox and Spencer Archer, general chairman of the event.

Center Shows Easter Hats, Gowns, Suits

"Your Easter Bonnet" and the suit or gown to go with it in the forthcoming parade will be shown at the Therapy Center Terrace on Monday.

Fashions from Goldman's in Walnut Creek will be displayed for luncheon guests at noon and again at 1 p.m. This presentation will be enhanced by music played on an organ which has been given to the tearoom.

Models, chosen from the 17 units of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, will include the Mesdames Robert Patrick (Flicker Unit), will Meacham (Hummingbird Unit) and Robert Mattoon (Flamingo Unit). The show is being organized by Mrs. Stuart Wight (Flicker Unit) of Walnut Creek.

Monday fashion luncheons are but one of the many special events held at the Terrace. It is located at 1475 East Newell Avenue, Walnut Creek. Facilities are available for meetings, luncheons, and bridge parties.

Hurry! Right This Way To the Fashion Carnival

Circus time is in the air for members of Alpha Lambda Chapter of Omega Nu who are completing arrangements for their annual fashion show luncheon "Carnival of Fashions."

One of the major projects on Alpha Lambda's calendar, it will be presented Wednesday at the Orinda Country Club. Each year large groups from both sides of the tunnel are attracted to the show. A social hour starting at 11:30 will precede the luncheon scheduled to be served at 12:30 p.m.

In keeping with this year's theme, members of the decoration committee are making gay colored circus wagons and flags to center each table.

Featured attraction at the charity affair will be a collection of spring and summer fashions from Joseph Magnin's. Mrs. Muriel Sinclair of San Francisco, fashion director for Joseph Magnin, will be the commentator.

Money will be used to send Contra Costa handicapped children to summer camp. At present the League's camp, Chimpapin, is located at Strawberry Lake. Campers include children with retardation, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, heart conditions, etc.

Dance Section Donates Gift To City Club

A group of Contra Costa County women will don colorful Hawaiian costume for their hostess role at the Berkeley Women's City Club, Wednesday afternoon, April 11. (As members of the Hawaiian Dance Section they will participate in a program dedicating the section's gift of a beautiful new gold curtain and stage equipment for the club's auditorium. The entire club membership has been invited to the affair.

In the dance group from this area are: the Mesdames W. C. Lazzareschi, Walnut Creek; H. W. Siegworth, Orinda; and C. C. Cramer of Danville.

Mrs. Ritchie Ward of Orinda, a former chairman of the Hawaiian Dance Section, will be one of those presiding at the tea table. Mrs. Ward was hostess last summer at a benefit party for the new stage equipment.

It was Mrs. Milton Shriver of Orinda who started the curtain fund as a memorial to the late Mrs. A. R. Moffett.

Valley Viewers Dine and Dance

Fifty-four Valley View Estates neighbors dressed in "silks and satins" had a big evening at the Berkeley Elks' Club recently.

They dined and danced to music set up by Dave Pugatch and Fred Cely.

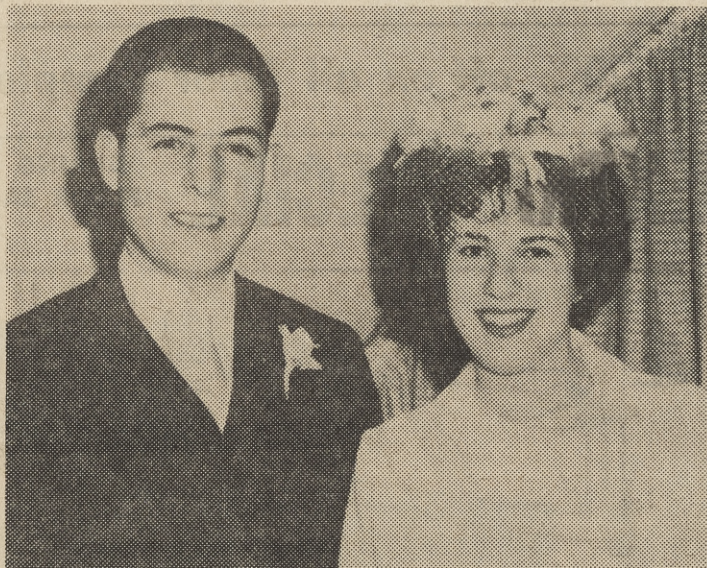

In charge of the affair were Edith and Dave Pugatch. Assisting them were Mmes. and Messrs. Art Scholar, Rudy, Jacuzzi, Don Peterson, Larry Tinker, Charles Sutter and Fred Cely.

The next event will be in May. Usually, it is a fancy costume party, a catered dinner and dancing. There will be door prizes—and, according to one source, ham entertainment.

Walnut Creek finished fourth with $7,358,895.

The total for urban and unincorporated areas was $120,756,869 in more than 10,000 building permits. The breakdowns for Concord and Brentwood were not available but it was indicated that the number of residential permits in Concord would run to well over 1100.

Richmond was second in totals with $14,866,941 and Martinez, heretofore a minor figure in statistics, was third with a deal of the Martinez total was made up by permits for the Martinez Marina and the new Veterans Administration Hospital.

A PAIR OF WINNERS in opening Foothill League track meets were Dave Dunning (left) of Miramonte and Wayne Vico of Del Valle's B team. Dunning edged teammate Rich Kay by a stride in Miramonte's meet against Alhambra, which the Mats won. Dunning's time was 5:02.2. Vico was the winner of the 660-yard race. Del Valle bowed to Acalanes. Sun photos by Bob Yost and Bob Rush.

Dons, Clan Deadlocked For FAL Track Lead

Piedmont defeated Del Valle, 76-37, last Friday in Foothill League track to move into a tie with idle Acalanes for first place. Both teams are 2-0. The Trojans are 1-2.

The Dons were soundly defeated last Friday in a triangular meet with El Cerrito and DeAnza after winning their first three dual meets.

In the only other FAL meet last Friday, Las Lomas routed hapless Alhambra, 85½-27½. It was the Knights' second win in three league meets. Alhambra is now 0-3.

A SCHEDULED meet between Miramonte (1-1) and San Ramon (0-1) at Moraga was re-scheduled for Tuesday afternoon because of soggy track conditions.

The Clan's win over Del Valle was an easy one except for the events that Bill O'Toole entered for the Trojans. The four-letter man won three events with Del Valle getting just four firsts for the whole afternoon.

The Trojans' 880-yard relay team won the final event of the afternoon with O'Toole helping out by running one leg.

O'Toole took first place in the 100-yard dash, the 220, and the high jump.

The Las Lomas triumph was highlighted by double wins from Larry Gabie, Earl Staley and Dick McCoy. Alhambra interrupted the Knights' monopoly of the meet with just three firsts.

Gabie won the 100-yard dash and the broad jump. McCoy the 220 and 440. Staley took both the discus and shot put, setting a school record with a heave of 50-1½ in the shot put. The old record was 47-7, set in 1958.

Untouchables and Lou and Jess Barbers both won their fourth games in five tries last week in the Pleasant Hill Adult Basketball "A" League to stay tied for the top spot with two games to play.

Lou and Jess bumped the Dons out of a share of the top spot with a 92-73 triumph last week.

The Dons are 3-2. Four teams—Yang Yangs, Danville Cement, Curtin Shop and Champion Plumbing—have 2-3 records. Cop is in last place with a 1-4 mark.

Untouchables routed the Yang Yangs, 63-48, to keep pace with Lou and Jess.

Diane Howell was third in stunts. She teamed with Miss Deardorff to finish second in the duet competition.

Mats Edge Antioch for Third Win

Miramonte warmed up for the Foothill League season with its third straight non-league win, edging Antioch, 5-4, in Orinda Tuesday afternoon.

The Mats had downed Amador and Pittsburg in previous games.

Roy Kay delivered the clutch hit for the Matadors in the bottom of the seventh. Bob Williams was safe on an error to open the inning. After one man went out, Williams stole second and then racer home on Kay's single.

ANTIOCH led throughout the game until Miramonte tied the score in the sixth with two runs. The Panthers scored twice in the first inning and added two more in the fourth.

Miramonte scored a lone tally in the third and after Antioch had grabbed a 4-1 lead, the Mats got one back in the fifth before tying the game in the sixth.

Brad Peter drove in the first two runs for Miramonte. His triple in the third scored Jay Grilli who had reached first on an error.

In the fifth, Peter singled home Glen Tobias who had walked, and stolen second.

The Mats tied the game with the help of a walk, a stolen base and a two-base error.

PETE BOYLE walked to open the inning and with one out, stole second. Boyle romped home on an overthrow of Clint DeWitt's grounder. Mike McQuaid then brought DeWitt home with a single to tie the game.

Craig Hidy, who came on in the seventh inning, was the winner for Miramonte.

He was the last of four pitchers. Pete Boyle went into the first three innings and was relieved by Gordy Templeton during Antioch's uprising in the fourth inning. Dick Bowe hurled the fifth and sixth innings.

Howell School Captures PA Swim Title

Danville's Howell Swim School won the team title in the Pacific Association (AAU) junior synchronized swimming championship at the Sacramento YMCA last weekend.

The San Francisco Merionettes, usual winners of the team trophy, finished second.

Making up the winning team for the local school were Diane and Debbie Howell, Carol Deardorff, Kathy Craig, Denise Land and Tammy Caulk.

Diane Howell was third in stunts. She teamed with Miss Deardorff to finish second in the duet competition.

Falcons Win 4th; Knights, Wolves Lose

In prep baseball games played last Thursday, College Park dumped Skyline, 5-1; Mt. Diablo edged Las Lomas, 4-2, and San Ramon bowed to Clayton Valley, 5-1.

The Miramonte-Pleasant Hill game was called off because of wet grounds.

The Falcons picked up their fourth win in six games as Mickey Sytkowski hurled a two-hitter. College Park scored all five runs in the first inning.

Las Lomas dropped its first game in three tries as Mt. Diablo continued on its winning way.

The Devils scored all their runs in the second inning after the Knights had taken a 1-0 lead. Larry Bradford, a sophomore, went all the way for Las Lomas, giving up seven hits.

Bob Flammig hurled a six-hitter and struck out 10 for Clayton Valley, but lost his shutout bid in the final inning against the Wolves.

Bob Metz tripled and rode home on Fred Theis' single for San Ramon's only run. It was the third defeat for the Danville nine.

Gaels Finally Win ... And in Big Way

After four straight losses, St. Mary's College finally found some pitching to its liking and battered Mare Island, 16-2, at Moraga last Friday.

Gael hitters battered four pitchers for 14 hits with Harry Laiola getting three hits and three RBIs.

PH, Falcons Both Lose in CDD Track

Clayton Valley moved into sole possession of first place in the Contra Costa Division Track League when previously undefeated Pleasant Hill was dumped by Pittsburg.

Clayton Valley whipped Pacifica, 84-28, for its third straight dual win.

The Pirates remain in a virtual tie for the top spot with its second win, 70-43, over the Rams. Pleasant Hill is now 2-1.

In the other CCD dual meet last week, College Park took it on the chin for the third straight time, 63-53, from Antioch. It was the first CCD win for Antioch in three tries.

Mt. Diablo (1-1) had a bye last week.

Schnugg Sets National Mark For Aquabears

Peter Schnugg set a national record as 30 Aquabears entered AAU competition last Saturday in San Leandro and Santa Clara.

Schnugg, 10-year-old swimmer from Orinda, swam the 100-yard freestyle for boys 10 and under in 1:34, clipping 3/10 of a second from the old record.

He also broke the national 200-yard individual medley for the same age group with a time of 2:38.8, but finished second in the event.

At the San Leandro age group meet for swimmer 12 and under in which 300 swimmers participated, Mark Spitz of Walnut Creek, swimming in the boys 11 and 12 age group classification, won both the 50-yard butterfly and 50-yard backstroke, as well as taking sixth in the freestyle.

The Ski Line . . .

Get Out Your Shorts-- It's Spring Skiing Time

By HEC HANCOCK

The ski season has made its way through the early frustrating droughts, survived the tortuous blizzards, and has finally achieved the happy status known as spring skiing.

This is sort of a never-never land for the skiing fraternity.

Through April and May, good weather becomes the rule rather than the exception. Although storms can be expected, they are shorter in duration and usually less severe.

Temperatures that hover around the freezing point, rise, falling at times into the 70s. The layers of winter clothing become superfluous, and are discarded so as to best enjoy the warm spring sun. The uniform of the day is either shorts for the more courageous, or shirtsleeves for the prudent.

It's a happy combination of sun glasses, sun tan lotions, and zany straw hats.

This becomes the time to ski the slope before the impact of the sun takes its toll, then return in the late afternoon, when the snow again turns to "corn."

The hole in the middle of the day can be filled by leisurely picnic-style lunches, and basking in the bright Sierra sun.

It's spring again in the Sierras. For those that haven't experienced this wonderful phenomena, a wonderful treat is awaiting.

In keeping with the times, Alpine Meadows will inaugurate an April Fool's Day Snowshoe Race.

Four-person teams, composed of either or both sexes, will race on snowshoes over a course that bristles with such obstacles as saw horses, suspended tires, doublefaced ladders and bamboo tunnels. The winning team, based on the lowest time, are appropriately awarded with a bottle of the "bubbly." Entries will be accepted up until starting time, 1 p.m. Sunday. The course will be available for practice Sunday morning.

In the meantime, the regular Alpine Meadows Sunday guest slalom will be conducted on the Pomalift hill. Open to novice skiers only, the weekly winners will then compete Easter Sunday for the Pfeifer House perpetual trophy.

Evidence of the constant growth and expansion of skiing is the announcement from Dodge Ridge that two new Poma lifts are going up.

One will be installed in the lower East Bowl, the other will be placed on the main slope, parallel to the T-Bar lift, and will extend to the top of the ridge.

Another project slated for the off-season is the clearance of large blocks of time in the new Far East Bowl, and further "manicuring" of existing runs in that area.

Echo Summit Ski Area reports fabulous skiing on a pack that measures up to 150 inches. Skiers are beginning to take advantage of the smooth hill to experience the exhilaration of skiing in shorts—particularly a real thrill when you spill in the corn snow!

A rollicking group of youngsters from Parkmead Intermediate in Walnut Creek, Fairview in Lafayette and Pleasant Hill made the sojourn to Squaw Valley last week under the auspices of a Sports & Games "Learn to Ski" trip.

Jeanne Allasia, Karen Egan, Bob Pitts, Lynn Rigney, Stephanie Webb and Phil Burton made skiing look easy.

Janne and Joan Ghiselli of Fairview were auspicious in their first serious attempt on skis. Terry Reeves and Greg Dodds, also of the Fairview group, displayed fine form and mastery of the slope.

Skyline 'Walks' To 18-1 Rout Of Del Valle

Four Del Valle pitchers gave up 15 walks and Skyline took advantage of their generosity, drubbing the Trojans, 18-1, Tuesday afternoon in Walnut Creek.

Both teams collected five hits. It was the third loss in four non-league outings for the young Trojans.

Tim Tunison, Dave Sargent, Ray Cox and Steve Hunt all toiled on the mound for the Trojans—and all were equally ineffective.

SKYLINE scored twice in the top of the first inning, but Del Valle got one back in their half of the inning. Jim Christman and Bill O'Toole worked the double steal with Christman scoring after both players had singled.

However, Skyline put the game on ice in the second with six big runs.

The game was turned into a nightmare for Del Valle coach Doug Pedersen as the visitors added seven more in the fifth and three in the sixth before the rout was ended by darkness.

Jim Lesh had two of the Del Valle hits—a single and a double.

However, the Del Valle hitters had a futile day at the plate for the most part, striking out 11 times in the six innings.

Miramonte Miler Wins in 4:29-- Wolves Take Meet

Dave Dunning of Miramonte turned in the East Bay's fastest time in the mile for this season with a 4:29 Tuesday afternoon against San Ramon in a Foothill League meet.

However, it was the Wolves who won the meet, 64-49. It was the second FAL loss for Miramonte against one win. San Ramon is now 1-1.

Dunning, a senior, had lap times of 1:03, 1:09, 1:09 and 1:08. He was an easy winner.

His over-all time was 20 seconds better than his best previous effort. Dunning had been running the 220 as well as the mile, but was held out of the sprint event Tuesday by coach Don Phillips because of a slight groin injury.

In a three-way meet at Concord, College Park finished a poor third behind Mt. Diablo and Alameda.

The Falcons had 25 points while Mt. Diablo won with 73½. Alameda finished with 41½.

Art Miller of College Park won the 100 in 10.4. Loren Speck was the only other College Park winner. He took the shot put with a toss of 51-5¾. Speck also finished second in the discus.

San Ramon 64, Miramonte 49. High hurdles—Feia (SR), Bowles (M), Pittman (SR), 17.2.

880—Neighbor (M), Sechens (SR), Gallagher (M), 2:08.3.

Broad jump—Mivalez (SR), tie between Smith (M) and Neighbor (M), 18-8¼.

Mile—Dunning (M), Kay (M), Mattos (SR), 4:29.0.

High jump—Lehrs (SR), Johnson (SR), Hutchinson (M), 5-7.

Relay—San Ramon, 1:37.0.

B score—San Ramon 69, Miramonte 44.

Mats Notch 2nd Win in FAL Golf

In the second week of Foothill League competition, Las Lomas dropped their match to San Ramon, 6-3, on Monday, and Miramonte whipped Del Valle, 9-0.

The loss to San Ramon gave the Knights a 1-1 record in league play. Las Lomas gave away at least one point before the match even started, as they played with only five men and had to concede the sixth position. San Ramon is now 1-1, Miramonte 2-0 and Del Valle 0-2. Acalanes (1-0) and Piedmont (0-1) met yesterday.

In Miramonte's rout of young Del Valle, Steve Baker led all scores with a 40, defeating John Delaveaga 2 up. Number two Matador Jeff Knudsen took care of Bruce Black, 4 and 3. Baker and Black combined to take the best ball event, 4 and 3.

Miramonte number three and four men, John Spinola and Jim Trumbley, defeated their men, Scott Smith and John Blagen of Del Valle, and then won the best ball on the 18th hole.

Rick James, number five Matador, won over Don Dufosse, 2 up, and teammate Dave Lackey, number six man for Miramonte, outlasted Bill Sponseller, 1 up. James and Lackey took the best ball, 1 up, to complete the sweep.

In a non-league contest on Tuesday Las Lomas battled Clayton Valley to a 3-3 draw.

In the Las Lomas-San Ramon match, Pete Dozier of the Wolves turned in the low score of 36 while defeating Jim Roessler, 2 up. Tim White, San Ramon's number one man, defeated Ted Roessler, 1 up.

The other point for the winners came when Stan Beam, number five man, defeated Mike Koefler, 2 up. Steve Gibbs of San Ramon was a winner on the forfeit.

Las Lomas point winners were Greg Mertens (over H. Hammond, 1 up) and Dave Jones (over R. Lehmen, 1 up).

In the Clayton Valley-Las Lomas clash, T. Roessler turned in a 37 round for the Knights, but lost his point. J. Roessler, Greg Mertens and Denny Young were the Las Lomas winners.

In another non-league contest, Acalanes ripped Amador, 4-2, at Castlewood Country Club on Monday.

Jim Johnston of Amador was medalist for the match with a blazing one under par 35.

Mike McNevin, number four man for Acalanes, turned the par 36 layout in 39 to register his teams' best effort.

Art Shierry and Gary Childs were the only point losers for Acalanes.

PH Pop Warner Team Selecting Coaching Staff

A new local Pop Warner football team, the Pleasant Hill Rebels, are in the midst of selecting a coaching staff, Stewart Osmer, president, reports.

A list will be submitted to the general membership of the Pleasant Hill Football Association for approval sometime in April, he said. Also, the coaches must be approved by the board of directors of the East Bay Pop Warner League.

The East Bay League includes teams from Concord, Martinez, Pittsburg, Orinda, Livermore, Vallejo, San Pablo and Oakland. Boys competing for these teams are in the 12- to 14-year age group and weigh between 95 and 130 pounds.

WITH THE GREATEST OF EASE . . . Charles Park of Las Lomas sails through the air as he clears 11 feet at last Friday's Foothill League track meet with Alhambra. Park could only place third in the event, however, behind a winning vault of 11-7 by an Alhambrian, and teammate Perry Conner. Sun photo by Bob Rush.

College Park Edges Pitt In Opening of CCD Play

College Park baseball squad equalled the total number of wins that it had in last year's CCD competition as they defeated Pittsburg, 2-1, Tuesday in the first league game of the season.

Nearby Pleasant Hill was not quite as fortunate as they were being drubbed by Clayton Valley, 10-0.

In the Falcon game, Terry Henson went the full distance, allowing the Pittsburg squad only four hits while striking out three and walking three.

In the fourth inning Pittsburg took the lead with an unearned run on two consecutive walks and an error by the shortstop. College Park touched Pitt moundsmen for only two hits, but both came in the two-run fifth inning to supply the victory margin.

RON ENGERSOL doubled and Henson walked. Engersol stole third, as Henson was safe on a play at second after a pass ball. Bob Ament struck out and Dennis Whalen walked. On a double steal, Henson was safe at third while Whalen was out on a close play at second. Bill Howerton walked and Henson came home on Karl Arinos single.

It was the second win in three starts for young Terry Henson and it gave the Falcons a 5-2 record on the season.

It was a gray day indeed for the Rams of Pleasant Hill as Clayton Valley sluggers climbed on Ram pitchers Al Oxley, Steve Dawkins and Jim Dunlap for 10 runs and 13 hits.

Clayton Valley, Devils In Class Alone in CCD

Prep baseball moved to the center of the spring sports stage this week with both the Contra Costa Division and Foothill League opening their league seasons.

and it looks like Clayton Valley and Mt. Diablo will be battling for the title again this year.

The two teams tied for the division crown last season with 10-2 records.

Pacifica was the only other team to post a .500 or better record last year. The Spartans were 7-5.

HOWEVER, the Red Devils started off league play by showing who will be boss, drubbing

Falcons have a good chance to finish as high as third if their pitching continues to sparkle. The Rams haven't been able to score many runs so far this season.

NONE OF the five other teams look like they can match the powerful Eagles or the Devils.

The Foothill League opened play yesterday afternoon in what could be quite an interesting race.

None of the teams have been outstanding in their practice season. However, from the record, it looks like Acalanes, Miramonte and Las Lomas will have a chance for the title.

The Dons and Miramonte haven't tasted defeat yet while Las Lomas lost once—to Mt. Diablo, 4-2. Acalanes has received tremendous pitching so far.

San Ramon has lost three, newcomer Del Valle, three of four, while Piedmont is a perennial also-ran in FAL baseball. The Clan was 1-14 last year.

Defending champion Alhambra has been off and on so far this season. The Bulldogs lost much of their strength via graduation.

Hal Roderick of the Paint Blenders in the Junior Majors, posted a 628 series to cop the honors in that department. Hal finished with a big 256 game, and only a split in the tenth frame ruined his chances for a 290 game, as he started with a spare, then hit for eight strikes in a row.

DVC Golfers Lose Second League Match

Diablo Valley College golfers probably lost any chance to repeat as Coast Conference champions when they lost their second league match in three tries last Friday to Monterey Peninsula College, 9½-5½, at Del Monte Golf Course.

There are only seven league matches. Last year the Viking golfers shared the title with Menlo College, losing just one match.

The Viks are now 8-4 overall. Today, DVC travels to Salinas where they will meet Hartnell College in another league match. Monday the Vikings entertain Foothill College, also a Coast Conference match.

Rich Miller of Monterey paced all golfers with a three-over-par 75 last Friday.

Steve Lamphere had a 77 for DVC. Other DVC scores were: Dick Shaul, 80; Ray Shorum, 86; Don Minor, 86, and Dennis Gault, 87.

Mrs. Bogert Is Among Leaders

Mrs. W. L. Eadie fired an 86 to take low gross honors in the Invitational Sweepstakes of the Hilden Park Women's Golf Club last week.

In Class A, Mrs. Z. Bogert of Lafayette tied for the top position with an 88-14-74.

In Class B, Mrs. C. A. Reilly of Round Hill Country Club tied for fourth place with a 104-22-82. Mrs. J. Neely of Lafayette was fifth with a 106-22-84.

Mrs. Einar Oas of Orinda was a fourth place finisher in Class D with a 119-35-84. Mrs. Austin Little of Orinda was fifth with a 116-31-85.

DVC '9' Loses to Oakland CC, 8-7

Oakland City College scored two runs in the top of the tenth inning to edge Diablo Valley College, 8-7, last Friday afternoon in a non-league game at DVC. The Thunderbirds outthit the Vikings, 17-10.

Contest for Writers

Neophyte authors and poets in public high schools throughout Contra Costa County will have the opportunity to try their skill in a creative writing contest being sponsored jointly by the Walnut Creek branch of the American Association of University Women and the Diablo Pageant of Arts.

Entries must be sent by April 10 to Mrs. Richard Grover of Walnut Creek, co-chairman with Mrs. Frederick Lorenzen, also of Walnut Creek, of this annual event.

Each year this contest is sponsored by the Walnut Creek, AAUW and the Diablo Pageant of Arts for the purpose of stimulating creative thinking among students, giving recognition to accomplished work, and providing examples of this work to the community.

The cooperation of English teachers in all the high schools in the area is encouraged and appreciated by the committee in charge of this contest.

A panel of judges has been selected to judge the entries. They are: Poetry, Sue Friedman of Alamo, editor of Signet, a national poetry magazine, and Alma Chochman, retired English teacher of Concord; short story, John Thayer, a librarian from Walnut Creek, and Frederick Dyer Bennett, also from Walnut Creek; and essay, Judith Politzer from Walnut Creek and AAUW member, who is a reader for high schools in the Mt. Diablo School District, and Norman Colby, associate editor of The Sun newspapers.

The judges will judge the four main categories of short story, essay, poetry-serious and poetry-humorous. There will be three awards in each category, providing there is sufficient material submitted.

A short-short story category and informal as well as formal essay category will also be added if an unusually large number of entries in these particular classifications is received.

Awards to the winners will be made at the general membership meeting of AAUW on May 16 in the multi-purpose room of Las Lomas High School, at 8 p.m. Recognition of the winners will also be made at the 7th Annual Pageant of Arts, also in May.

Library Will Hear Famed Book Reviewer

Friends of the Orinda Library and their guests are invited to hear well-known book reviewer, Mrs. William Blair Smith when she speaks at the group's next morning meeting Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the Orinda library.

According to Mrs. Miles Hudson, president of the local library group, Mrs. Smith will give an interesting analysis of a group of current books, showing how they relate to a common theme. Using three to six books and as many different

Half of Students In Junior College 'Earn and Learn'

Approximately one-half of Contra Costa College's full-time day students are "earning while learning," according to an employment survey completed by Richard E. Petersen, college placement officer.

Petersen, quizzing 2020 fall authors of fiction and non-fiction as well, Mrs. Smith will present their diverse approaches and different points of view on one particular subject.

Special guests for the April meeting will be members of the Orinda AAUW. The public is invited. Coffee will be served.

Twenty hours of private employment a week is the average, although 24 per cent of the men and nine per cent of the women were working 40 hours a week or more.

MEN EARNED an average of $1.69 an hour for part-time work, and $3.25 for full-time. Wages paid women were $1.37 and $1.85 an hour, respectively. The great majority of students were employed in the retail field, with service and utility firms in second place. Peterson described as "disturbing" the relatively small number employed by technical, scientific and research firms.

PETERSON'S survey showed that the majority of employed students obtained their jobs on their own initiative or through friends. Twelve per cent, however, were situated through the college placement office, and another six per cent through the State Employment Service.

High School Journalists Visit Seattle

Five students representing Pleasant Hill High School's journalism talent attended the fifteenth annual press conference at the University of Washington, Seattle, recently.

Faculty advisor, Joan Frantz, accompanied the select group of all-girl journalists including Pat Belding, Gail Gordon, Pat Hurley, Nancy Murray and Vicki Ortengren, the Ram-page editor.

Principal conference speakers were Stewart H. Holbrook, author and journalist; Kenneth Dodson, author of the best seller, "Away All Boats," and Paul Swenson, executive director of the Newspaper Fund and former managing editor of the Minneapolis Star.

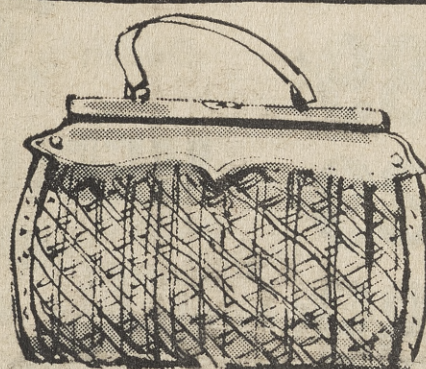

The conference hosted over 1500 student journalists from Alaska, Arizona, California, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington. Not only were new journalism techniques brought to the attention of the aspiring journalists, but the principals of free press were stressed upon the students.

Moraga Phone Service Will Be Established

By GLADYS SHALLY

Moraga Pacific Telephone customers, while having new all-numeral telephone numbers, still will not be able to have direct distance dialing service for some time. Just when that will be depends upon the future growth of the area, and the rapidity of that growth will determine when the new type equipment, necessary for such service, will be installed.

In the meantime, the small telephone building in "downtown" Moraga keeps its distinction of having provided the community with the very first automatic dial telephone service in Northern California.

UNTIL 1925 there was but one telephone in Moraga, located in the Moraga Mercantile building, now called the Moraga Barn. In April of that year the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company installed a magneto switchboard in the same building with Mrs. Helen Smart (now Mrs. Hetfield) as operator for the nine customers.

The Moraga exchange building, with all automatic equipment was constructed in 1927 by the PT&T, designed for 200 line capacity. The automatic switching arrangement put in, and still in use today, is basically the same step-by-step system which was invented by A. B. Strowger in 1889.

On January 1, 1928, the brand-new dial service went into effect with a listing of 44 Moraga customers. Twelve years later, in 1940, the number of subscribers had only risen to 55!

THEN BEGAN the migration to the suburbs. The forecasting department of the telephone company keeps in close touch with area developments and thus equipment was prepared, in 1950, to give telephone service to 207 subscribers. By 1954, there were 362 phone users in Moraga with a total number of 476 phones in use. Today the number of DRake 6 phone subscribers is 1659, with 67 per cent of that number having extension phones.

The Moraga telephone exchange has another distinction. Its subscribers received one of the smallest Pacific Telephone directories issued. This occurred at the time of the November 11, 1951, cut-over when DRake 6 prefix was introduced, replacing the prefix "Moraga." PT&T customers received a special 6x9-inch Moraga telephone directory. It contained four pages in all, with 199 names listed on just a page and a half.

Perhaps the wait for distance dialing may not be too long at that. Moraga is developing with ever-increasing speed into the typical sidewalkless "suburban city." PT&T planners have arrangements at the present time for enlargement of its building in Moraga to accommodate mechanical equipment which will handle up to 10,000 lines.

Humboldt State List Includes 2 Orindans

The names of two Orinda students attending Humboldt State, Arcata, are included in the 82 students on the president's list of scholars for fall semester, 1961.

Students named to the president's list are undergraduates who have earned an index of 3.50 (a B-plus) or better in 12 or more units of work, and who have received no "F's" or incomplete grades for the semester.

Prentiss Combs Has Story on Wagon Train

The television series "Wagon Train" recently featured a story written originally by Orinda author Prentiss Combs.

The TV version, "The Baylor Crofoot Story," was based on Combs' short story, "Turn the Other Cheek," which first appeared in the Saturday Evening Post March 25, 1961. Combs is the author of many Post stories, as well as those appearing in other leading national magazines.

Another of Combs' stories appeared on Alcoa Premier recently. Entitled "The Man With the Shine on His Shoes," it first appeared in the Ladies Home Journal in September, 1961.

Combs, his wife Lee and their three children live at 309 El Toyonal, where Combs is completing the building of a new home with Tom Hand, who designed it.

Cub Pack 57 Gives Awards At Meeting

Cub Scout Pack 57 held its monthly meeting recently at Miramonte High School.

Inspection was held by assistant packleader Ronald Hamm, and honor cub was Marty Anderson from Den 10. Second place was Kent Whipple from Den 8.

Awards were given to Don Purdy, silver arrow on wolf, and Raul Lakin, wolf from Den 1. Den 3 had Gary Bergren, assistant denner stripes; David Bernard, denner stripes; Roy Bini, silver arrow on wolf; Mark Malowsky, silver arrow on wolf.

DEN 8 had David Abenth, denner stripes and two-year pin, and Gene Phillips, bear award.

Den 10 had Tod Bottari, denner stripes and silver arrow on bear, and Mike McKim, gold arrow on bear.

He stressed the fact that the first thing anyone should when they pick up a gun is to see if it is loaded, and boys and girls should use guns under the direct supervision of an adult who thoroughly understands the rules of gun safety.

Two boys, Steve Pickett and Bill Faunce, were introduced into Cub Scouting and received their bobcat awards.

Athletic director, Vic Bottari, announced that baseball practice and games will be held at Del Rey School on Saturday morning until the start of summer league baseball.

April 7 is the date announced for Scoutarama to be held at St. Mary's College.

Grow Vegetables for Food and Fun, Too

There's no more widely enjoyed garden art than vegetable growing. Children invariably respond to the challenge and fun of growing vegetables. The cook of the house will welcome the garden-fresh produce. And the gardener himself derives certain satisfaction from being the provider of foodstuffs.

We might add, too, that the neighbors will always be happy to relieve you of the inevitable surplus. For however small we keep our vegetable patch, it seems always to provide more than we can use.

THIS SHOULD be a good lesson for gardeners who claim they just don't have the room for growing vegetables. Actually, a minimum of space will do the trick. A five-by-five plot, provided it's in the sun, will produce some salad greens and chard with a few radishes thrown in for good measure. Anything larger than five by five becomes proportionately that much better.

The California Association of Nurserymen suggests that pole beans, Swiss chard, tomatoes and squash—summer, crook-neck or zucchini—are excellent crops for the garden with limited space for vegetables. Pole beans use a minimum of space since they grow up, not out. Tomatoes can be grown against a sun-baked wall. You get all the chard you can eat from a short row of it, and three or four mounds of squash will feed a family. These are always dependable crops, too—easy to grow and maintain.

SALAD GREENS should be planted at the slightest excuse, for there is nothing to be found on a store shelf that can match the tender freshness of lettuce that comes directly from the garden. Your CAN nurseryman will no doubt be able to furnish you with seedling lettuce plants, already started in flats and easily transplanted to the sunny bed which you have prepared for them.

There are other flat-grown seedlings which are equally simple to transplant too. Tomatoes should always be bought as transplants from your local nurseryman since he stocks only those varieties which do well in your own area. Cauliflower plants are still available in some areas, as are celery seedlings. Bell peppers and eggplant will be available to the gardener during the coming weeks.

THE KITCHEN garden should be planned for the sunniest part of the garden. Like summer annuals, summer vegetables thrive on warmth. Choose a place where your vegetables will get several hours of sun each day. In the cooler coastal areas, the more sun you give them, the better, and if you can't give them at least six hours of this commodity daily, then steer clear of such heat lovers as peppers and tomatoes.

The area for growing vegetables should be rough leveled and thoroughly worked over with the spading fork. Manure should be liberally supplied and turned under two or three weeks in advance of planting. If you have no level areas, a terraced, or shelved contour planting—one that follows the contour of your slope—will permit efficient and easy irrigation.

OFTEN THE gardener does not give enough thought to the ease with which he can harvest his vegetables. One way to grow them so that they are easy to pick is in beds which have been raised and contained within rectangles of two-by-six redwood header boards. If these raised beds are surrounded by gravel paths and are never so wide that you can't reach halfway across, you can reap the harvest simply and easily.

This is a handy method of fitting vegetables into the small garden but in very large areas, it is impractical.

Home & Garden

Good Soil Makes Heap Big Garden Difference

It could be stated unequivocally that no factor plays so large a part in the success or failure of a garden venture as the soil in which you grow things. And it is equally true that most gardeners pay little attention to their soil, leaving to chance an answer to the all-important question of how good it is.

In the early years of a new garden, the chances are good that you can get away with such malpractice. For most soils—except the obviously rocky or sandy one—have nutrients enough to support good growth. But as your garden depletes those nutrients you had best start putting some of them

ASIDE from depleted soil, the gardener is often faced with two other conditions: His soil is valueless to start with (i.e., lacking in topsoil or too sandy to hold nutrients) or his soil is so compacted that it will not yield up the nutrients it holds. His need in any of the above instances is to embark on a soil improvement program.

The surface layer of soil in which plants grow is known as topsoil—a combination of decayed organic matter and decomposed rocks. And if success is desired in gardening, this top layer must be kept in good shape. The California Association of Nurserymen is adamant

Set Out Plants in Containers Now

If you would have the fragrance of lavender in your garden this summer and for summers to come, best set out container grown plants now. Many gardeners tend to overlook this old-fashioned favorite, but landscapers are using it more than ever for its attractive gray foliage and spiked blooms. Give it sun and nothing else in the way of culture. To pamper it is to reduce its ability to dispense perfume.

on this point.

THE ALL important need in this top layer is humus—the great healer—which makes compacted soils lighter and sandy soils heavier. Manure is a form of humus, so is peat moss and leaf mold and compost. These ingredients should be worked into bad and good soil alike, for if they correct the one, they keep the other in good shape.

Carnations Thrive

Carnations may be planted now in a sunny side of your garden. The best results will be found from a rich soil containing plenty of humus and constant moisture. Gardeners are prone to think of the carnation as a tough number—and, indeed,

Transvaal Daisies Striking for Spring

Gerbera, or Transvaal Daisy, as it is commonly known, is one of spring summer's most striking perennials. The tall, daisy-like flowers, held aloft like some regal crown at the end of long, wiry stems, must be seen to be really appreciated. You can plant them this month from nursery containers, giving them perfect drainage and a sunny spot. Leave the crown of the plant a bit above soil level and you'll avoid the danger of water-logging which gerbera sometimes succumbs to.

Gardeners Get Back in Groove

With spring bustle out all over the California Association of Nurserymen suggest that gardeners get back in the groove this week and attend to the following:

1. Hydrangeas may be planted now for their showy bloom in late spring and summer.
2. Food is needed by many plants now. Feed lawns, roses, camellias and azaleas, many others.
3. Prune hibiscus rather severely, then feed and water it to promote a new top. These should never be without water.
4. Plant fuchsias this month. You can use them in hanging baskets, in pots or in the ground.
5. You can plant more gladiolus now for a later bloom period. Those already pushing up foliage should be sprayed occasionally to prevent thrips.

That Bathroom Can Be Problem In Older House

One of the most common problems in home improvement concerns the bathroom in the older house.

With outdated fixtures, and a bad layout, this bathroom can seriously inconvenience the growing family.

Often a family should really have two washrooms if children and adults are to enjoy the privacy dictated by modern, active living.

The answer, of course, is modernization and, where possible, addition of a small bathroom. Bathroom modernization can vary from just the essential replacement of old fixtures to a complete change, including wall and floor coverings, lighting, and room layout.

In the first instance, there is much improvement to be gained simply by removing old fixtures and installing modern ones.

The old bathtub can be replaced by a modern tub, in color or white, in one of many attractive contemporary styles. In choosing a new lavatory, there are a wide variety of possibilities. In the pedestal type, one can choose a model with wide ledgerroom on either side of the bowl which is convenient for grooming and placing toiletries.

Another type of lavatory is the cabinet model. No longer does this kind of installation have to be custom-made. Well-known manufacturers offer such units as part of their standard line.

get plenty of water and sun. They may be cut in late summer and dried by hanging upside down. But herbs are always best when picked fresh from the garden and used within minutes of that time.

Valley Art Gives Grant To College

A grant of $500 was made recently by the Valley Art Center to the California College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland. Mrs. Harold Powell, president of the art center, last week presented to Harry X. Ford, president of the college, a check for this amount to finance a pilot study for planning and organizing community art centers.

The immediate goal of the study will be plans for the future development of the Valley Art Center.

THE CENTER, which was founded 14 years ago, is presently located at 978 Hough Avenue, Lafayette. It is open to the public on Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 10 to 4.

The organization plans to occupy new quarters in the proposed Lafayette Community Center where there will be greater scope for full community participation in the art center's activities.

The Valley Art Center's primary aims are to bring fine art in all forms to the community and to act as an outlet for artists' works and a source for layman who enjoy them. It is also concerned with the teaching of art in various forms to children and adults, and sponsors a continuous schedule of classes at the center.

FUNDS GRANTED to the college were raised through the activities of the art center women's board, including annual house tours, sales and rentals of paintings, and special gallery events.

Plant Dahlias Now for Bloom

Probably nowhere in the entire United States do dahlias thrive as they do in California. They are at their very finest in the coastal gardens, but anywhere in the state, they can give the gardener a potful of color for his summer garden.

The dahlia is unique in the varied uses to which it can be put in our landscapes. The Dwarf Unwin varieties are sold as bedding plants and used as bedders for a mass of low, bright color. Intermediary dahlias are planted from tubers and used for spot color throughout the border. The large mop-like beauties, tall as basketball players, are the favorites of specialists, who plant them in beds by themselves and enter the platter-size blooms in summer flower shows.

Like the chrysanthemum, the dahlia has been bred into a dozen different bloom types. They range from the small pompons to the giant, ragged cactus-flowered showpieces, and all have a place in your garden.

Dahlia tubers should be planted any time now for bloom from July until late fall. If you have never grown them before, have no qualms about planting them for the first time. They are easy to grow, having the bloom built into them just as all bulbous plants do. Follow these California Association of Nurserymen recommendations, however, and you will have better than average results.

Our CAN memo on this subject says that dahlias do well in all types of soil so long as you dig it to a depth of some 18 inches at planting time. Manure may be worked in well at this time, if the soil is poor, but it is best to wait until the tops have made some growth before you fertilize with anything else. Water, combined with good drainage, is the most important commodity and should never be lacking during growth processes.

You may top water if you must, but irrigation is always preferable. Pinching the plants as they grow encourages bushy plants, and disbudding promotes bigger individual blooms from the buds that are left. For ordinary garden use, however, the CAN suggests you go lightly on the disbudding. For general gardening, we are more concerned with the mass rather than the individual bloom.

Herb Growing Is Delight for Gourmet Garden

The man who grows herbs within easy reach of his kitchen is one who enjoys the better things of life. Like the home vegetable gardener, he knows the culinary pleasures which are unattainable to the cook who buys only from the neighborhood grocer.

With herbs, it is nice just to crush the leaves and sniff them as you pass by in the garden. But it is pure joy to pinch a spot of basil for a last minute addition to the soup pot, to garnish fried chicken with leaves of thyme or to freshen an iced drink with a sprig of mint.

The space required for growing herbs is so small that no garden should be without its share of these wonderful kitchen accessories. Herbs grow beautifully in pots or plant boxes. Indeed, herb growing is an art which even the apartment dweller can pursue provided he has access to a sunny window box or some small space either on the roof or in the backyard of his apartment house.

Starting an herb garden has become vastly simpler in the past decade or so, thanks to increased attention given this problem by members of the California Association of Nurserymen. Where once it was necessary to grow herbs from seed, it is now possible to find well-started plants in CAN nurseries. This not only simplifies the process immeasurably, but enables you to avoid that awful excess of plants which seedling invariably results in.

For the budding herbal enthusiast, the CAN suggests six or eight standbys as a start: Parsley, which many consider more a vegetable than herb, chives, thyme, rosemary, basil, sage, marjoram and mint are readily available and always in demand by cooks. As your interest expands, you can try savory, tarragon, caraway, dill and many others, though some of them may be found only from seed.

Most herbs are better and more aromatic if the soil they are planted in is on the poorer side. This does not mean they don't like attention, however, for as with all herbaceous plants, they do best when they

Two Area Teachers Show New Language Instruction

Two area teachers provided demonstrations for the foreign language teachers' conference held yesterday on the Contra Costa College campus to work out details of expansion of the program in the upper elementary school grades.

Esther Johnson, coordinator of foreign languages in the Orinda Union High School District and James Garvey, instructor in Russian and German at Acalanes High School demonstrated the audio-lingual methods to be used.

THEY ALSO showed the demands on the teacher, its goals and how it differs from the traditional methods including costs in manpower and materials.

By 1965 Contra Costa County elementary and junior high schools will be called upon to find foreign teachers for some 27,000 students. And, of all teacher shortages, probably the most acute is in teachers qualified to teach foreign language to pre-high school age children.

How to recruit enough teachers by the time foreign language instruction becomes mandatory in grades 6-8, three years from now, was discussed before school superintendents, principals and curriculum coordinators.

DR. CHARLES W. Lovy, instructor in foreign languages at the college, introduced the subject of teacher preparation at the beginning of the meeting and returned to it in mid-program with an explanation of the plans of Contra Costa College and other educational institutions.

As the introductory speaker, Dr. Lovy also commented on the need for harmonizing instruction at all levels, elementary, secondary, and college; the value to the nation of persons skilled in foreign languages and the change in method of instruction.

San Ramon Students Win Way Into Merit Finals

San Ramon Valley High School qualified all seven semi-finalists in the 1962 National Merit Scholarship finals it was announced by Dr. Roger J. Shulte, principal and superintendent.

The seven finalists include: Ingrid Darwin, Allan Clute, Jim Cramer, Dave Levy, John McCord, John Graff and Jim Galvin.

Final selection was based on the students scores in the college entrance examinations which each semi-finalist was required to take last December.

The way is now clear for each to be granted a four-year scholarship at the college or university of their choice.

Selection is based on a percentage by state with some 10,000 scholarships being offered each year by the National Merit Foundation.

Fifteen San Ramon High seniors have been selected as California State Scholarship semi-finalists.

The students, John Almassy, Barbara Arnold, Cathy Bailey, Barbara Boohar, Alan Clute, Jim Cramer, Ingrid Darwin, Dave Flick, Jim Galvin, Mary-ann Howard, Marian Jones, John McCord, Doug McKinley,

Mike Powell and Sharon Werfelmann were chosen on the basis of their scores on the college boards.

Finalists will be chosen on the basis of high school record and financial need. The scholarships can be as high as $900 to be applied to any California college. The scholarships are renewable if a satisfactory record is maintained at college.

Paintings by WC Artist Now At St. Mary's

Paintings by Jack Laycox, young Walnut Creek artist, are currently on display in the St. Mary's College library.

The exhibition, which includes twice as many paintings as the earlier Laycox showing in the Keith Gallery, will continue until April 13.

Laycox, a native Californian, studied art at San Francisco State College and with Elmer Colt, his grandfather and a noted portrait artist.

India Hawthorne Rates As All-Around Shrub

Raphiolepis is the botanical name for a highly ornamental family of shrubs in California. But if the tag ties your tongue, just call them India hawthorns and any nurseryman will get the picture.

In fact, members of the California Association of Nurserymen are so high on India hawthorn that many of them rate it the best all-around shrub available for home use. It is tough enough to stand extremes of heat, poor soil and neglect, yet it blooms with the delicacy of an azalea and the foliage is always fresh as spring.

THERE ARE several different members of this family offered by CAN nurserymen, but the variety most commonly sold is pink India hawthorn. From January to April and even into May, this attractive shrub is loaded with lovely pink blossoms.

Springtime is the named variety to look for. It draws raves from nurserymen and gardeners alike.

Enchantress is a red India hawthorn or very nearly so—its blooms being a rich rose color. It is slightly later to bloom than its pink sisters and the blooms last into summer before they fade. Both pink and red India hawthorns are very similar to each other in shape and foliage. The choice between them will be made largely by the garden-er's taste for color. Both should be in bloom when you visit a nursery this month.

Botanically these two shrubs are not even remotely related to the true hawthorn family and where the name derived is anybody's guess. Most likely someone saw a closer resemblance to the hawthorn's bloom than most of us will discover.

OTHER MEMBERS of the Raphiolepis family include the round leaf raphiolepis and the delacouri raphiolepis. Both of these are vigorous, bushy shrubs, suitable for tall foundations or informal hedges. The former produces fragrant white flowers, while the latter's flowers are pink. Both are spring blooming.

There are differences between these two and the more delicate India hawthorns, but even the amateur can tell they belong to one family. In cultural demands, they are also alike, which is to say that there isn't a troublesome one in the lot.

Dinner Planned

A dinner for retiring California Highway Patrol officers August (Dick) Schutt and C. Harry Jaeger will be held April 11 at the Concord Inn.

High School Journalists Visit Seattle

Five students representing Pleasant Hill High School's journalism talent attended the fifteenth annual press conference at the University of Washington, Seattle, recently. Faculty advisor, Joan Frantz, accompanied the select group of all-girl journalists including Patricia Belding, Gail Gordon, Pat Hurley, Nancy Murray and Vicki Ortengren, the Ram-page editor. Principal conference speakers were Stewart H. Holbrook, author and journalist; Kenneth Dodson, author of the best-selling, "Away All Boats," and Paul Swensson, executive director of the Newspaper Fund and former managing editor of the Minneapolis Star. The conference hosted over 1500 student journalists from Alaska, Arizona, California, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington. Not only were new journalism techniques brought to the attention of the aspiring journalists, but the principals of free press were stressed upon the students.
